TWO CENTS

CURRENCY BILL A LAW

President McKinley Affixed His Signature Today.

NO INTERNATIONAL BIMETALLISM.

Overstreet Declared in the House That the Measure Made It Impossible—Nine Democrats Voted With the Republicans for the Bill.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—The president affixed his signature to the financial bill today and it thus became the law.

The last legislative step in the enactment of the financial bill was taken by the house of representatives Tuesday when the conference report on the bill was adopted by a vote of yeas, 166; nays, 120; absent and not voting, 10. The Senate had already adopted the conference report.

The debate on the bill continued throughout Tuesday, Mr. Overstreet, of Indiana, opening and Mr. Brosius, of Pennsylvania, closing in support of the measure, while Mr. Little, of Arkansas, closed in opposition with a severe arraignment of the bill. Others also spoke.

During the debate Mr. Williams (Ills.) asked whether it would not be impossible, in case an international bimetallic agreement was reached, to escape paying the refunded 30-year 2 per cent gold bonds in gold and, such being the case, whether the bill could be considered an encouragement to international bimetallism.

"The bonds could be paid only in gold," responded Mr. Overstreet. "This bill holds out not the slightest hope of international bimetallism under present conditions. I say frankly that this bill will make it practically and absolutely impossible ever to have international bimetallism at the ratio of 16 to 1."

The vote was on party lines except that nine Democrats joined with the Republicans in supporting the conference report.

Nine Democrats voted with the Republicans to agree to the report, viz: Driggs, Underhill, Levy, Scudder, all of New York; Denny (Md.), McAleer (Pa.), Thayer and Fitzgerald (Mass.).

ALL MONEY AT PARITY WITH GOLD STANDARD.

Mr. Gage, Secretary of the Treasury, Explains the Provisions of the New Currency Law.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Secretary Gage made a statement in explanation of the provisions of the financial bill, in which he said in part:

The financial bill has for its first object the fixing of the standard of value and the maintaining at a parity with that standard of all forms of money issued or coined by the United States. It reaffirms that the unit of value of the dollar, consisting of 25.810 grains of gold nine-tenths fine, but from that point it goes on to make it the duty of the secretary of the treasury to maintain all forms of money issued or coined at a parity with this standard. It puts into the hands of the secretary ample power to do that. For that purpose the bill provides in the treasury bureaus of issue and redemption and transfers from the general fund of the treasury's cash $150,000,000 in gold coin and bullion to the redemption fund, that gold to be used for the redemption of United States notes and treasury notes. That fund is henceforth absolutely cut off and separated from the cash balance in the treasury, and the available cash balance will hereafter show a reduction of $150,000,000 from the figures that have heretofore prevailed. This $150,000,000 redemption fund is to be used for no other purpose than the redemption of United States notes and treasury notes, and those notes so redeemed may be exchanged for gold in the general fund or with the public, so that the reserve fund is kept full with gold to the $150,000,000 limit.

The secretary is given further power. If redemptions go on so that the gold in this reserve fund is reduced below $100,000,000 and he is unable to build it up to the $150,000,000 mark by exchange for gold in the general fund or otherwise he is given power to sell bonds and it is his duty to replenish the gold to the $150,000 mark by such means.

The "endless chain" is broken by a provision which prohibits the use of notes so redeemed to meet deficiencies in the current revenues. The act provides for the ultimate retirement of the treasury notes issued in payment for bullion under the Sherman act. As fast as that nation is coined into silver dollars treasury notes are to be retired and replaced with an equal amount of silver certificates.

The measure authorizes the issue of gold certificates in exchange for deposits of gold coin, the same as at present, but suspends that authority whenever and so long as the gold in the redemption fund is below $100,000,000 and gives the secretary the option to suspend the issue of such certificates whenever the silver certificates and United States notes in the general fund in the treasury exceed $80,000,000.

The bill provides for a larger issue of silver certificates by declaring that hereafter silver certificates shall be issued only in denominations of $10 and under, except as to 10 per cent of the total volume. Room is made for this larger use of silver certificates in the way of small bills by another provision which makes it necessary as fast as the present silver certificates of high denominations are broken up into small bills to cancel a similar volume of United States notes of small denominations and replace them with notes of $10 and upward. Further room is made for the circulation of small silver certificates by a clause which permits national banks to have only one-third of their capital in denomination under $10.

One clause of the bill which the public will greatly appreciate is the right that it gives to the secretary to coin any of the 1890 bullion into subsidiary silver coins up to a limit of $100,000,000. There has for years been a scarcity of subsidiary silver during periods of active retail trade, but this provision will give the treasury ample opportunity to supply all the subsidiary silver now in the treasury or hereafter received. The bill makes a continuing appropriation for paying the difference between the face value of such coin and the amount the same will produce in the new coin.

A distinct feature of the bill is in reference to refunding the 3 per cent Spanish war loan, the 2 per cent bonds maturing in 1907 and the 3 per cent bonds maturing in 1904, a total of $23,000,000 into new 2 per cent bonds. These new 2 per cent bonds will not be offered for sale but will only be issued in exchange for an equal amount face value, of old bonds. The holders of old bonds will receive a premium in cash to compensate them, in a measure, for the sacrifice of interest which they make. That cash premium will be computed on a basis of the present worth of the old bonds at 24 per cent, and will be on April 1, the date that the new 2 per cent bonds will bear, $105.6851 for the $5, $111.675 for the $4 and $110.0751 for each $100 of the $3. This exchange will save the government, after deducting the premium paid, nearly $23,000,000, if all the holders of the old bonds exchange them for the new ones. National banks that take out circulation based on the new bonds are to be taxed only one-half of 1 per cent on the average amount of circulation outstanding while those who have circulation based on a deposit of old bonds will be taxed, as at present, 1 per cent.

There are some other changes in the national banking act. The law permits national banks with $25,000 capital to be organized in places of 3,000 inhabitants or less, whereas heretofore the minimum capital has been $50,000. It also permits banks to issue circulation on all classes of bonds deposited up to the par value of the bonds, instead of 90 per cent of their face as heretofore. This ought to make an immediate increase in national bank circulation of something like $24,000,000, as the amount of bonds now deposited to secure circulation is about $22,000,000. If the price of the new bonds is not forced so high in the market that there is no profit left to national banks in taking out circulation, we may also look for a material increase in national bank circulation based on additional deposits of bonds.

National banks are permitted under the law to issue circulation up to an amount equal to their capital. The total capital of all national banks is $616,000,000. There is, therefore, a possibility of increase in circulation of $63,000,000, although the price of the new per cent bonds, as already foreshadowed by market quotations in advance of their issue promises to be so high that the profit to the banks in taking out circulation will not be enough to make the increase anything like such a possible total.

NEAR BOERS' CAPITAL

Roberts May Enter Bloemfontein Today.

FRENCH CAPTURED TWO HILLS.

From These Positions, Close to the Station, He Commanded the Town Salisbury's Attitude Toward Boers Mostly Approved.

LONDON, March 14.—4:30 a. m.—The dispatch from Cape Town saying that General French has "arrived at Bloemfontein" probably does not mean that he has entered the city.

The Boers may make another fight, but there is little doubt that Lord Roberts will occupy Bloemfontein today. The Boers retiring from Orange river will find themselves between two British armies, and their guns are almost bound to fall into the hands of the British, while the occupation of the capital of the Free State will strain the alliance of the two republics to the utmost.

The government will not allow the Kruger-Steyn appeal to influence in any way their determination not to spare any effort to prosecute the war. There will be no diminution of measures calculated to maintain the full efficiency of the field force and whatever reinforcements were previously considered advisable will still be sent out.

Lord Salisbury's reply meets with unanimous approval.

The war office received a dispatch from Lord Roberts announcing that after a fight with the Boers, Gen. French occupied two hills close to the station commanding Bloemfontein.

ELDER MANSELL.

OFFICIAL OF THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Criticises His Action in Resigning and His Last Sermon Sunday Night.

In reply to an inquiry as to the cause of Elder Mansell's recent actions, an official of the church said this morning: "No, I can hardly see the justice in his actions and manner, because the church board asked him twice by a unanimous vote to stay; the congregation was asked to reject his resignation, which they did by unanimous vote. Mansell says 'if the board of elders had come to him after he had resigned, even the second time, and coaxed him, it might have all been fixed up and he'd staid.' But the board of elders felt as though they could treat the matter only in a business manner, and not make child's play of the church.

"The elders have regarded Mr. Mansell as rather a nice young man and have allowed him to conduct matters generally to suit himself, and while he did many things which they did not approve of, they overlooked them at all times, on the grounds that Elder Mansell was but a very young man with a very short experience in the pastorate and were ready at all times to forgive his errors. But it appears he now regrets his action in resigning, as he failed to secure several positions he had expected, and had gone too far to ask for the position here. He asked for his church letters Saturday and was informed that they would be granted in due time, or as soon as he left. But Lord's day morning he had the congregation vote on giving him letters; this was as foolish as was his resignation.

"Yes, sir, Rev. Mansell got every penny due him on his salary last Monday night, which was $1,050 per year. The church has had a prosperous year, raising more than $3,300, and has been in splendid order and unison up until the present time; what effect the disturbance he has caused, we hope will not be taken seriously by the membership, as there was no cause whatever for such acts.

"Yes, he goes of his own volition and without any just cause, the same for his unhappy condition.

"What do I think of his action Sunday night? Well, let the public judge, from the advantage of the opportunity, it being his last sermon it could hardly be compared with the last sermon on the mount, and hardly as mild as he reported to the newspapers."

TOOK SOME WARE.

Attempted Robbery In a Second Street Store at Noon Today.

Shortly before noon today several men under the influence of liquor entered the notion store of Mrs. Meister on Second street. After they went out Mrs. Meister noticed some ware missing from the counter. She went to the corner of Union and Second streets, where the men were standing, and accused one of the men of robbing her. The men started away and one of them dropped several pieces of ware that were hidden under his coat. The matter was not reported to the police.

A SMOKER.

John Powell, of This City, Attended One in Pittsburgh Last Night.

Last evening, at Pittsburg, a smoker was given to the printers of that city, who are on a strike. The talent was of the best, and included selections on the violin, saxophone and piano. The solos were very pretty, and the Harris quartet added greatly to the pleasure of the evening. One of the most pleasing features of the evening was the presentation of a large silk flag by Otto Schuette, of Allegheny, to "Old Seven." John Powell, of this city, attended the banquet.

VERDICT BY DEFAULT

GRIM GIVEN JUDGMENT IN ROSE'S COURT

For $104 Against the City and $47.75 Against the Mayor, With Interest.

The jury in the Grim case was out one hour and a half yesterday afternoon, when they returned a verdict for the plaintiff and said that the city should pay him $104 with interest, and Mayor Bough should pay him $47.75. This don't entirely dispose of the matter, as Solicitor McGarry told the squire to prepare a transcript, as the case would be carried to common pleas court for settlement.

Suit was entered in the same court by John Whan for $160.50. The case will be heard Monday at 1 o'clock, but Solicitor McGarry will make no defense, but prefers to let it take the same course as the Grim case.

They tried to get the safe open, but failed, and the only thing that was missing this morning was a few lead pencils. They left their tools.

EAST END.

Mrs. Enoch Riley is confined to the home of her son with a severe attack of rheumatism.

A number of East End residents have commenced to trim their grape vines. Martin Elliott has the largest vineyard in the suburb and he is the first to commence the trimming.

Contractor Harvey McHenry stated yesterday that it was his intention to start the brick work on the new East End school building within the next ten days. Work was to have been started last Monday, but the weather was so bad this was found to be impossible. Two stone cutters are working at the building trimming stone.

William Orin, of First avenue, is confined to his home with a bad attack of cramp. His condition is not serious.

There is a dead cow buried in George Pearson's lot in East End near the run and the water is washing it out. The stench is something fearful, and as the nuisance is within the corporation limits, the health officer is asked to look after the matter.

Dr. and Mrs. R. J. Marshall entertained the F. F. F. F. club at their home on Mulberry street last evening. The young gentlemen friends of the members of the club had also been invited, and the affair was a most delightful surprise.

SOUTH SIDE.

The older residents of the South Side say that Dr. J. N. Russell was the first person to die in Chester who lived on the flat, or east of Cunningham's run. A number of deaths have occurred in Chester recently but they all resided west of the run.

Several amateur photographers went to the Chester rolling mill yesterday and took a number of views of the works.

There will be an immense amount of building on the South Side during the coming summer. Contractor J. T. Smith was in Chester yesterday afternoon. He said: "From what I know now there will be $25,000 expended in building in Chester this year. The houses that will be erected on the Taylor, Lee and Smith addition will cost in the neighborhood of $20,000, while houses to be put up by the Finley Brothers and Contractor Silvermore will swell the amount to not less than $25,000." The building will commence very soon. It is said over 100 houses will be built there during the year.

A new house is being erected on Carolina avenue for James McDonald. Treasurer Voegely, of the Chester Rolling Mill company, stated yesterday that the mill would be started not later than the middle of May.

Garret Mercer has secured the contract for the hauling of stone for the foundation of several new houses that are to be built on Carolina avenue.

Toll Collector Thomas Todd is very ill at his home on Fourth street with an attack of quinsy. His duties at the bridge are being looked after by his son.

WANT AN INCREASE.

A New Ordinance Defining the Duties of the Solicitor Introduced Last Night.

An effort will be made to increase the salary of the solicitor and the first step in the matter was taken at the meeting of council last night when an ordinance was introduced defining the duties of the solicitor but not fixing the salary, that portion of the ordinance being left blank. The ordinance was referred to a committee composed of Marshall Smith and Ashbaugh. It was not favored by any member of council and it is not thought the present salary of $600 will be increased. It is said that the solicitor elect, Gaston, desires the salary fixed at $1,000 per annum.

A Strong Hint.

Harry wanted to give Lucy a birth day present, but could not make up his mind what it should be; so the next time he called he frankly told her the difficulty under which he was laboring. "Want to make me a present, Harry?" exclaimed Lucy in well counterfeited astonishment. "Why, Harry, you forget yourself!"

Harry took the hint and offered himself on the spot.

R. W. TAYLER'S CAREER.

His Investigation of the Roberts Case Was Fair and Thorough.

[From the Detroit Free Press.]

Another man brought to the fore, in a far more enviable light, is Representative R. W. Tayler, conducting the case against Roberts. Mr. Tayler is from the old McKinley district, and has an exceptional equipment for the task he has undertaken. In appearance he is not of the robust order of statesmen. With fair face, shoulders that he has always permitted to droop, indispensable eye glasses, modest demeanor, and kindly instincts, he is among the last of men that a casual observer would pick as fitting leaders where nerve, aggressiveness and fearless determination must be joined with an ability to give and take in legal controversy.

But this passing judgment would be at widest variance with the truth. College mates of Tayler will recall the deceptiveness of this outward appearance. It concealed muscles of steel and a will that had only to be right in order to be invincible. He was the peer of any amateur baseball catcher in his day, and held the same enviable place as a student of the classics.

Mr. Tayler entered upon the activities of life with no advantages save those given him by nature and education. He taught school in the historic old town of Lisbon, edited a paper of influence, spent his nights acquiring a knowledge of law, and is today a scholarly, cultured, deeply-versed representative of the honorable profession to which he belongs. The severest adverse criticism he has ever received was from a learned judge who declared that his reasoning was so nearly perfect as to be invulnerable and so absolutely honest that it might lose him cases where a logician less conscientious might win.

In the light of this knowledge there is the strong presumption of a formidable case against Roberts or Congressman Tayler would not be its champion. There is also the assurance that the man from Utah must meet the situation just as it is and abide by the consequences. He will be held to the text by a quiet power that he cannot escape.

MADE A RECORD.

Members of the First Presbyterian Church Are Proud of Their Achievement.

Last year the First Presbyterian church of this city needed $4,000 to pay off the church debt and it was decided to raise the money, if possible, by public subscription. No notice was given the congregation until one Sunday morning when Doctor Lee, the pastor, made a statement to the congregation and the subscriptions were taken simply by members holding up their hands and pledging so much. The amounts ranged from 50 cents to $100, and men, women and children donated, and $4,804 was pledged to be paid in three and six months.

The remarkable feature of the whole affair is the fact that the entire amount, except $80, was paid within the time specified and the record is one that has seldom, if ever, been equalled and is considered remarkable in church history.

FAIRMOUNT HOME.

STARK BOARD OF VISITORS COMMEND IT.

Supt. Southworth's Collection of Pictures Are Most Interesting.

Superintendent M. M. Southworth, of the Fairmount Children's Home, while in the city yesterday, exhibited a very fine collection of individual photographs of former inmates of the home who are now placed in good homes. All the pictures show happy faces, smiling with content, well nourished and well dressed children, who would not be recognized for the homeless, neglected waifs when first taken into the home. All reflect great credit upon Superintendent Southworth and the institution.

Concerning the home, the Lisbon Patriot says:

"The Stark county board of visitors examined the Fairmount Children's Home, and report the institution to be in an excellent condition. It is a model of its class and it is a pleasure to inspect it. There have been 237 children in the home the past year, 126 of whom were there at our last visit, October 17. There has been an epidemic of whooping cough without any fatalities. The food supplied to these children is wholesome, well prepared and of greater variety than is supplied in most county institutions. We find the cottages carpeted with bright rag carpets (the handwork of the children and attendants at the home), the dormitories are scrupulously clean and in perfect order. The beds in the 'farm house' were made up by two of the boy inmates as nicely as any women could do the task."

WANTS DAMAGES.

William Allen Wants the City to Pay Him $1,000 for Damage to His Property.

Council last night received a communication from William Allen asking for damages in the sum of $1,000. This comes from the East End, and was caused by the city improving Pennsylvania avenue and cutting down the property of Mr. Allen. The bill was referred to the solicitor. The city will get another bill for damages from the same section.

PAWBROKERS.

An Ordinance Regulating the Business Was Introduced Last Night.

The city may have a pawnbroker's shop. Last night at council an ordinance was introduced regulating pawnbrokers, and it is understood that a party has already applied for a license. The ordinance did not fix the license fee, but Solicitor McGarry stated that Youngstown charged $25 per year, while Canton charged from $25 to $200. The ordinance went to the ordinance committee.

TRANS-ATLANTIC TRAVELERS

Furnished Special Attendants by the Pennsylvania System.

The bureau of attendants for trans-Atlantic travelers established in Jersey City and New York City twenty years ago by the Pennsylvania system, has proven a great convenience to persons making European trips and to tourists arriving in America at that port. It will be particularly convenient for visitors to the Paris exposition because the departure docks of most of the Atlantic steamship lines are convenient to the new Jersey City passenger station of the Pennsylvania Railroad company.

This bureau consists of experienced agents whose duties are to meet passengers arriving in Jersey City and New York over the Pennsylvania lines and assist them in arranging for trans-Atlantic trips via any of the steamship lines by conducting them to steamships and aiding in preparations for a trip abroad.

These agents will provide cabs operated by the Pennsylvania system and aid passengers with their baggage. They are fully posted on matters pertaining to steamships leaving New York, and arrangements can be made through them for procuring steamship tickets in advance.

They also meet incoming steamships to aid travelers in shaping details for continuing journeys from New York over the Pennsylvania lines by furnishing tickets, arranging for the transfer of baggage from steamship docks after it has been passed by customs inspectors, and having the same checked through to destination. They will reserve sleeping car accommodations and relieve persons of the foregoing details, making themselves useful as attendants and guides free of charge.

Further information on the subject may be obtained by addressing the nearest Pennsylvania lines ticket agent, or C. L. Kimball, assistant general passenger agent, Cleveland, Ohio.

TWO WOMEN IN JAIL

Martha Burns and Minnie Carroll Arrested Last Night.

BOTH OF THEM WERE DRUNK

Martha Says Her Home Is in Salem and She Wants to Go Back—She May Go to the Works, and Minnie May Also Take the Trip.

The mayor had two members of the fairer sex to dispose of this morning.

The first one was Martha Burns, who is also known as Annie Jones. She was arrested last night at the corner of Second and Union streets by Officer White. When found she had a bottle in her possession, which was about a quarter full. Martha said she came to this city from Salem about a week ago. She said she was not drunk last night, but had drunk some during the day. She said she was married, but was not living with her husband at present. The mayor fined her $14.60. She is very anxious to go home, but will probably go to the works instead.

Minnie Carroll got drunk yesterday and went to a Sixth street residence and asked for a room. While there she fell on the floor. The patrol was called and Minnie was taken to city hall. The mayor fined her $9.60 this morning and told her she was a good candidate for the works.

COMING ATTRACTIONS.

"Jack and the Beanstalk" Tonight.

Lovers of operatic extravaganza will hail with delight the appearance of R. A. Barnett's popular "Jack and the Beanstalk" at the Grand tonight. The management have spared no expense, and the production is one of the highest standard. The same scenery and a number of the players, who made so pronounced a success in New York and other of the leading cities, have been retained. The critics have given this play unstinted praise, and the East Liverpool theatergoers will miss the best show of the season if they fail to see it. Don't forget that it will appear at the Grand tonight.

Thursday Night
"The Wealthy Widow Wiggles" will appear at the Grand. The show is headed by Miss St. George Hussey, and has been a record breaker this season.

Friday Night
The Corner Grocery comes to the Grand. It has been here before and needs no recommendation.

Saturday Night.
Gillette's latest success, "Because She Loved Him So," will be the attraction. It is one of Charles Frohman's.

The Christian.
"The Christian" comes to the Grand Thursday night. Over 45 people take part in the cast, and the company carry all their own scenery, which requires two cars for its transportation. Miss Effie Ellsler will be seen as "Glory Quayle" and J. M. Colville as "John Storm." The play is fully as strong in popular dramatic situations as "The Sign of the Cross," the only piece to which it can be compared. While religious zeal and endeavor is its keynote, so to say, yet through the tale travels the factor of romance.

Aged Man Suicided.
PITTSBURG, March 14.—Archibald Somerville, aged 67, who has been separated from his wife, shot and killed himself on the steps of the house where she is staying in McKeesport. He had made several threats, his wife says, to end her existence and his own.

PARK COMMISSION.

Chal G. Peterson Is the New Member Selected to Fill the Vacancy.

Chal G. Peterson was chosen by council last night to serve on the park commission in place of N. A. Frederick, who resigned. Ashbaugh stated that he had received a letter from Prof. W. L. Thompson saying he would be home April 16 or 17. Gus Brandenburg was suggested by Marshall as a member of the park commission, but his name was withdrawn after it had been found that Ashbaugh had asked Peterson to serve. Marshall wanted to know if the park commission had been legally and properly appointed. McGarry didn't think it had, and he will prepare an ordinance to present at the next regular meeting.

ON THE TABLE.

The Bell Telephone Under-ground Ordinance Wasn't Passed by Council.

Last night at council Smith handed the Bell telephone ordinance and the ordinance granting C. A. Smith the right to erect poles in the city to Clerk Hanley. The Smith ordinance was permitted to go over to its third reading, and when the Bell telephone ordinance was reached Clerk Hanley said Mr. Purinton had informed him that the company would never accept the ordinance if it regulated the prices they should charge. Marshall at once moved that the ordinance be laid on the table, and that is where it went by a unanimous vote.

THE NEW MAYOR

May Take His Seat the Day After Election if He Wants to, but it is Customary to Wait a Few Days.

The newly-elected mayor may take his seat any time after his election on Monday, April 2, but it is usually customary to wait until after the first regular meeting of the new council, in order to give the outgoing mayor time to complete his monthly report. He is usually sworn in by the outgoing mayor. It is probable the custom will be followed this year.

BEING DELAYED.

STREET RAILWAY EXTENSION SHORT OF RAILS.

Should Have Been Here March 1, But Work Will Be Begun This Month Sure.

When the franchises for the Pleasant Heights and Riverview extension of the street railway company were granted by council it was stated that work would be begun on the new lines March 1. Nothing, however, has been done, except the placing of poles, which was done late in the fall.

Manager L. W. Healy was asked about the delay, and said it was due to the failure to receive the special rails necessary for the work. These were, according to the contract, to be delivered March 1, but up to date nothing has been seen of them. As soon as they arrive track laying will be begun and will be pushed vigorously, with the object of giving the hill districts street car service just as early as possible. Mr. Healy believes the special rails will arrive soon and work will be begun this month certain. The first work will be the extension of the line from Third to the Diamond. After that the Pleasant Heights and Calcutta road lines will be begun, and work will proceed on both simultaneously until completed. Once active work is started, it will not take long to have the cars running. It has been suggested that as it is the intention of council to pave Calcutta road this summer, the tracks should be laid ahead of the improvement, so that the street will not have to be torn up thereafter.

Quick at a Hint.

Mr. Slyman, the bookkeeper, received a present of $10 from his employer. He expected more and was greatly disappointed. He dropped the money on the floor in the presence of his employer, as if accidentally, and stooped to pick it up.

"Did you find it all?" asked his employer after a few minutes.

WOMEN WHO WORK.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 12.

Though only 19 years old, I suffered from pains and female troubles two years. Last spring I got so bad I had to quit work. I had to support myself, and could not afford a high-priced doctor. I got one bottle of Wine of Cardui and that made me feel better. Have now used several bottles and am well. My mother used the Wine of Change of Life and was greatly relieved.

MISS MARGARET WALSH.

M'ELREE'S Wine of Cardui

Many girls and women find it necessary to earn their own living in various kinds of employment. Their work is often so hard and continuing that the health breaks down. Their delicate constitutions are unfitted for tiresome tasks. Weakness nearly always makes its appearance in the peculiarly delicate womanly organs. Constant standing and going at the beck of a superintendent or foreman, induces falling of the womb, leucorrhœa, headache and backache. The pay of women workers is often so notoriously small that when sickness comes they have no money to engage skillful physicians. To them Wine of Cardui is truly a blessing. It cures them of their ills at a small cost, and they can act as their own physicians. No doctor can do as much for "female troubles" as Wine of Cardui.

AT THE JUBILEE.

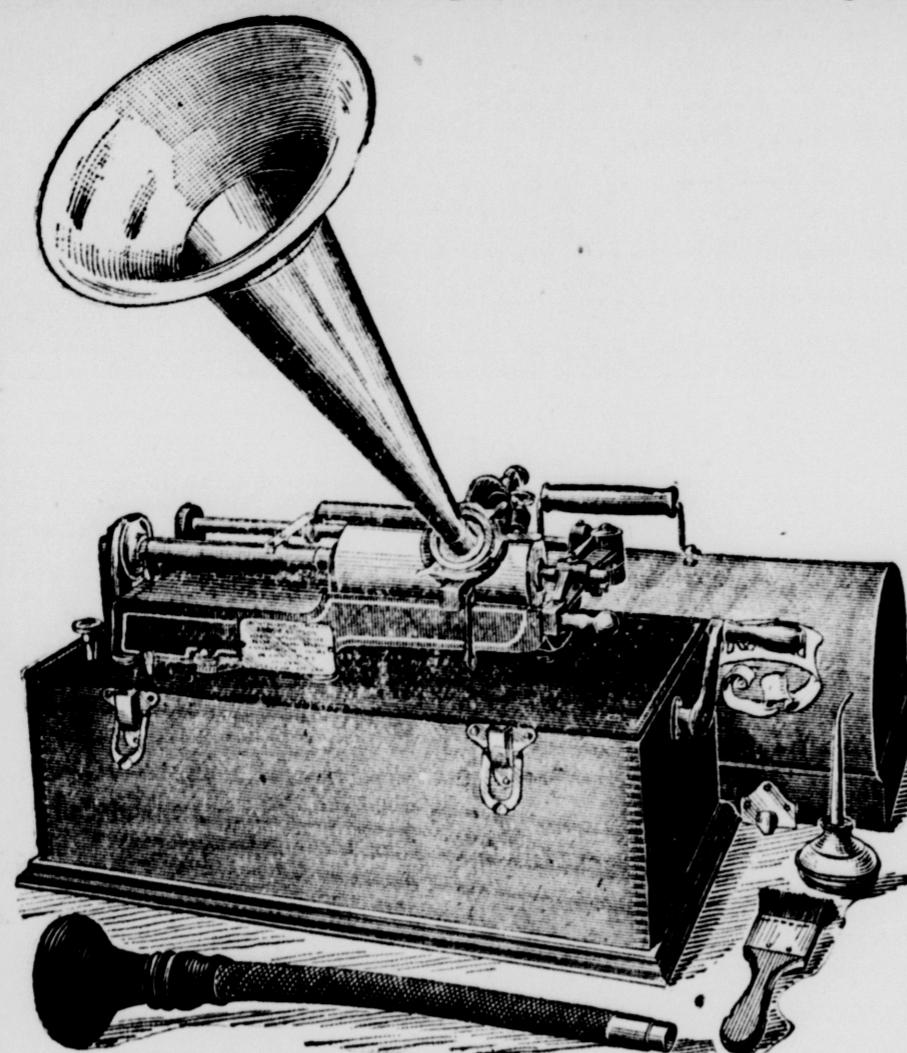

City council held a jubilee last night. They had "a monkey and a parrot time." The breeze from Kentucky evidently permeates the ambrosial locks of our solons.

AN IMPORTANT QUESTION.

You will note that an effort will be made, on April 2, to place certain men in council who are to be made the mere creatures of the whisky ring, subject to their control and orders, no matter what or who else suffers. Nip this in the bud. The nominees of the Republican ticket are all right as slated and will, we believe, aim to give us good government. Mark the men who kick and who work against the party, simply because they could not obtain that for which they aimed, and who enact the part of the dog in the manger.

TAXPAYERS.

The new method of making the decennial appraisement, taking the actual value of the land, may vitally affect future street assessments. Heretofore the valuation was 40 per cent of the actual value and the law limited the assessment to 25 per cent of the valuation, which meant 10 per cent of the actual value. Under the new method the 25 per cent of the valuation will be 25 per cent of the actual value or one fourth, and 15 per cent

THE EDISON HOME PHONOGRAPH. $30.00.

SMITH & PHILLIPS, - East Liverpool, Ohio

15 TO 16.

This was the vote on the Clark bill in its final destruction and failure to pass. It could have been, in our opinion, much more against it in case of necessity. In other words, it looks like a cut and dried affair, fixed to order. It seems at first sight to mark the defeat of the better class of citizens who stand in opposition to the saloon and who desire their residences protected against its inroads, but to a man possessed of faith in the right it bears the impression of good, because of the indignation which will be felt by all right minded citizens who will hereafter concentrate their energy to defeat each and every individual who would be guilty of such an imposition upon the public.

THE "GRIM" VERDICT.

It has caused comment all over the city. And the end is not yet. The case will now go to a higher tribunal, and a strong effort will be made, by proper legal talent, to have it decided on its merits. City Solicitor McGarry evidently builded on solid ground. He had good reasons for his action, as the prosecutors in the case will find in due season. The race is not always to the swift. The common remark on the street last night was that there were two arguments made in favor of Grim at the trial yesterday—one by the attorney in charge and one by the magistrate before whom the case was being tried.

The average intelligent citizen, irrespective of party lines, smiles at the utter absurdity of the verdict as rendered, and classes it as a "wan and grim joke." What shall the harvest be? It may be more serious and far-reaching than now appears on the surface. We bide our time and await developments.

THE SEWER COMMISSIONERS WANTED MONEY.

Council Wants Report of Work Done—Marshall Wants to Be Enlightened.

Every time the sewer commissioners ask for money it causes a debate in council, and last night was no exception to the rule.

Clerk Hanley reported that the sewer commissioners wanted $1,000 to carry on the work in district No. 2. Smith thought the commissioners should make report as to how much they had spent on the sewer and let council know about it. McHenry said council had decided to give them money from time to time as they needed it and he didn't want the work delayed. Peach said they ought to get the money, but he also thought they should make a report. It was finally decided to give them the money, but after it was over Marshall moved that the solicitor prepare a written report and give it to council in regard to just what shape sewer district No. 2 was in, as he desired to be clear as to whether council was acting legally in everything they were doing.

MAPS ARE MADE.

County Surveyor Has Them For Every City and Township In the County.

Ex-County Surveyor I. P. Farmer, who had a contract to furnish a complete set of maps and plats of the county, has finished the work, which was begun last September. Every township, village and city in the county was mapped out by hand. The different townships are bound in separate books, and the cities are also in separate volumes. Duplicates were made to be used by the land appraisers. Heretofore the county has had a jumbled mass of maps and plats of the county, without system or any regard to convenience.

M'GARRY AND MARSHALL

Had a Short Debate at Council Last Night.

SOLICITOR POSITIVELY REFUSED

To Draw Up a Resolution Paying Some Money to the African M. E. Church, Saying That He Didn't Think the Action of Council Was Legal.

Solicitor McGarry and Mr. Marshall indulged in a short debate last night at council that was highly enjoyed by the large attendance.

Chairman Ashbaugh, of the committee appointed to view the damage to the African M. E. church caused by the grading of Grant street, reported that the committee had viewed the property and found that it had cost the church about $700 to repair their property. He stated that the committee had decided that council should pay the congregation $200. Cain spoke in favor of the motion, and Peach said the church should be allowed that much. Marshall didn't think it was altogether right and suggested that the assessment of the church be refunded. McHenry didn't think it could be legally paid, but said if it could he would be willing to vote for it. McGarry said unless an unreasonable grade had been established the bill could not be paid. There was some more talk on the subject, and finally Fisher moved that the report of the committee be received and the request granted. The vote on the motion was four to three, Marshall, McHenry and Smith voting against it. Then McGarry said the motion should be separated and the report of the committee was received. Clerk Hanley reported that the assessment of the church would amount to $90.30, and Marshall moved that the assessment be refunded and the church be given $109.70. This motion carried, but another snag was encountered when Solicitor McGarry stated that he objected to drawing up a resolution to pay the amount when he didn't think it could be legally done. Marshall remarked that he couldn't see how the solicitor could recommend council to pay one claim for $400 and couldn't draw up this resolution. McGarry remarked that some men's minds were not large enough to see the difference in the two cases, and that was the trouble with Marshall—he was not capable of taking it in.

Marshall remarked that no good thing ever reflected from McGarry, and the solicitor promptly replied that it was probably because he had been in such bad company. The debate ended at this stage and Clerk Hanley said that council was becoming as bad as congress, while Cain said they had better move down to Kentucky. Peach wanted the clerk to draw up the resolution until they could get some legal advice, but the matter was finally laid over for four weeks.

POLICE RULES.

COUNCIL ADOPTED THEM LAST NIGHT.

There Was Some Hitch and the Vote Wasn't Unanimous By Any Means.

The rules for the government of the police force were adopted at the meeting of council last night, but not without some talk on the matter.

McHenry remarked that there were just as good men in the country under 5 feet 10 inches as there were over that height, and he thought the rules should be made to read 5 feet 6 inches. Marshall wanted to know how the clause about the ages between 21 and 45 got in the rules. Ashbaugh said it was put in after the committee met. Marshall said it wasn't right and he wouldn't vote for it, as some of the sturdiest men in the country were between 45 and 55. The age limit was stricken out, but the height remained the same, everybody but McHenry and Smith voting against the motion. The rules were then adopted, Smith and McHenry voting no.

McHenry remarked that it was the biggest piece of boys' play he ever saw.

Marshall suggested that the clerk change the wording of the rules so that the officers would not be compelled to button their coats to their necks, and the clerk remarked that he had changed it so that it would not be such an acrobatic feat as the committee had first proposed when they wanted the officers to button their coats to their necks within three inches of the knee.

TWO SOCIETIES

Held Meetings Last Night and Elected Their Officers for the Year.

The Kings Daughters of the Methodist Protestant church met last evening at the home of Mrs. Eberling, Sheridan avenue, and elected the following officers: President, Mrs. E. J. Souders; vice president, Mrs. Bessie Poland; recording secretary, Mrs. Allie Rezer; treasurer, Mrs. Jennie Welch; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Lucy Har- greeves.

The young ladies of St. John's Lutheran church met last evening and organized a Luther society. There was a good attendance and the election of officers resulted as follows: President, Minnie Agner; vice president, Celia Auberger; secretary, Anna Horst; assistant secretary, Margaret Hoffman; treasurer, Edith Koch; collector, Nettie Auberger.

They lie well and you can reach them by paved streets. It is wondered why we sell them on the terms. Some get the impression that they are inferior and we want to show them off. Such is not the case. The lots are slightly sloping, but none to hurt; face to the south, and are really worth more money. We sell them on the terms because we are permanently engaged in the real estate business, and, owning this addition, choose to sell these lots in this way. Anyone can afford to buy one. REJECTED BY ENGLAND.

Salisbury Declined Offer by Boer Presidents Made Through the United States.

LONDON, March 14.—The United States government, at the request of President Kruger and President Steyn, offered to the British government its services as mediator, with the view of bringing about peace in South Africa.

Lord Salisbury formally but in a kindly manner declined.

The representations made to Great Britain were so put that they assumed nothing of a desire to intervene, but simply transmitted the communications made to United States Consul Adelbert S. Hay, at Pretoria, with the accompanying assurances that anything the state department could do in the interests of peace would be gladly undertaken.

The well-known aversion of the British government to any foreign intervention did not appear to have been aroused.

Lord Salisbury made public the fact that he had refused the proposals of peace made by the two presidents to him, England refusing to recognize the independence of the two countries.

The merits of the proposition were presented by General George R. Geiger, of the Ohio National Guard. The members expressed their approval.

Captain McCalla Pardoned.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—President McKinley has granted a full pardon to Captain Bowman H. McCalla, of the navy. A DAY IN WALL STREET.

Relief From Currency Bill Must Come Quickly to Save Money Market From Being Pinched.

NEW YORK, March 14.—There was some pressure against the list at times Tuesday in the stock market, especially Metropolitan, Sugar, People's Gas, Steel Hoop and the New York city stocks generally. Missouri Pacific suffered from disappointment over the showing made in the annual statement and Rubber was raided down an extreme 3½. These and other declines were largely recovered before the close, and in the final transactions a sharp marking up of prices showed that the shorts among the traders were having difficulty in getting back the stock they had sold earlier in the day. Clearings of stocks on all recessions were in fact extremely light, and there were points of strength which acted as sustaining factors for the whole market, notably Third Avenue, the Atchison stocks, New York Central and Norfolk and Western preferred.

It was thus made manifest the while the market waits on developments in the money market for a rise, holders of stocks are not prepared to make concessions to sell. Call money did not command above 6 per cent and fell to 3 per cent, but this was probably due to the cessation of stock market demand as much as any new supply of funds. The losses by the banks to the sub-treasury since last Friday already footed up $3,284,000, which is more than half the remaining surplus over the legal requirement held by the banks. It is evident, therefore, that relief from the operation of the currency law must come quickly if it is to prevent a pinch in the money market. A feeling of assurance was caused by an intimation from Washington that the first payments on account of bond premiums in the refunding operation will be made from the sub-treasuries and not from the government deposits in national banks. The money market is expected to show relief from this source more quickly than from the putting out of new circulation. A striking feature of the day's events was the sharp break in sterling exchange, demand sterling yielding 3½ and cables ½ cent in the pound.

Bonds continued in good demand and prices were firmly held. Total sales, par value, $3,435,000. United States 2's declined ½ and the old 4's ¼ in the bid price.

Chicago Grain Market.

CHICAGO, March 14.—May corn declined a shade over a cent early Tuesday on profit takings, but recovered on covering by shorts closing steady, 3½ at 1½c under Monday. Wheat was heavy, influenced by heavy receipts and a poor speculative demand, May closing 3½ at 1½c down. Oats closed ½ at 1¼c lower and provisions 2½ at 10c depressed.

SILVER COINAGE AT 16 TO 1.

Allen and Butler Declare Their Attitude, Owing to Reports to Contrary.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Personal explanations were made in the senate by Mr. Allen (Neb.) and Mr. Butler (N. C.) of their positions on the financial question. Both announced their belief in the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1. The statements were called out by reports to the contrary, which had gained some circulation.

Mr. T. Y. (Wash.) began an extended speech on the Porto Rico bill. He maintained that the pending measure clearly was unconstitutional and expressed his belief that it would be so held if it were passed upon by the supreme court.

GRIM SABLE ISLAND.

THIS WRECK STREWN SAND BAR IS DOOMED BY THE SEA.

One of the Weird Legends of This Ocean Graveyard—A Woman in White, a Bleeding Forefinger and a Ring Sold in Halifax.

"Sable island belongs to Nova Scotia, is 145 miles from Halifax and 85 miles east of Cape Canso," writes Gustav Kobbe in Ainslee's. "It is a treeless, shrubless waste, seamed by wind and wave and of ever changing aspect. A cone shaped hill near the east end, once a mere undulation of sand, is now over 100 feet high and is still growing. Other hillocks are gradually being mowed away by storms. The hillocks are liable to be undermined so swiftly and swept out of existence that they are carefully watched from the various stations on the island there being no certainty how far an inroad of the sea will extend after each successful attack. Even the coarse grass of the island grows in a different manner from that of the mainland. It does not bear seed, but shoots up from roots which run along under the sand. During the winter the sand is blown over the grass and buries it sometimes three or four feet deep, but the hardy blades grow up next season, as if the island sands had protected them from the cold of winter in order to make them all the stronger."

"The island itself is fighting for self preservation. It seems as if it drew ships into its fatal embrace as rallying points for its loose and shifting sand, thus to protect itself by a bulwark of wrecks against annihilation by the sea. Tradition says that when Sable island was discovered by Cabot in 1497 it was 80 miles long and 10 miles wide. In 1802, when a rescue station was established there, it was only 40 miles long. Since then it has shrunk to but little more than 20 miles in length, and in width it is only a mile at its widest. Within 28 years the western end lost seven miles. Shoals over which the ocean now surges are pointed out as former sites of lighthouses. One of these was so swiftly undermined by the sea that it had to be abandoned with the greatest precipitation. The spot where once stood the superintendent's house is now under two fathoms of water."

"The island, rapidly diminishing at its western end, is slightly gaining at its eastern. Slowly, like a ship dragging its anchor, it is moving eastward. Will it ever reach the edge of the shoals, stand tottering on the brink of the abyss till it receives its coup de grace and plunge over the submarine bank forever into the depths? Unfortunately its end will probably be less dramatic. There is good ground for believing that this gray sand bar will slowly wear away until it becomes an other submerged shoal added to an am buscade already some 60 miles in length, for a line of breakers extends 16 miles from one end of the island and 28 miles from the other."

"In the space of a single year Sable island claimed more than 200 lives. In fact, so many wrecks line the shoals of this ocean graveyard that the new pile up on the old, like bodies heaped in one ditch. The Crofton Hall, an iron sailing ship wrecked a few years ago on the northeast bar, broke in two about amidships. The pieces have drifted together again, and the islanders suppose that she struck crosswise upon an old submerged wreck and is settling over it, which accounts for the two parts coming together. Nor is the island satisfied with the awful tribute which it exacts from the living. The same informant who writes me about the Crofton Hall adds that the bark John McLeod, which was wrecked off Devil's island at the entrance to Halifax harbor, drifted ashore on Sable island bottom up, a wreck of a wreck!"

was attracted by the piteous whining of his dog in front of a small, open shelter known to have existed at that time, but long since toppled to pieces. Approaching the shelter, he was startled to see the figure of a woman all in white and holding toward him the bleeding stump of a forefinger. While he was gazing at the apparition it rose silently glided past him and dived into the sea. But time and again thereafter the white woman with bleeding forefinger was seen wandering over the sand hills.

"It is probably only part of the weird legend that Captain Torrens, feeling sure that a shocking crime had been committed, tracked the guilty pirate until he discovered his family on the coast of Labrador and learned that the ring had been sold in Halifax. It is a fact, however, that many years after the disaster Lady Copeland's ring was discovered in a jewelry store in Halifax and was returned to her family. From that hour her ghost has ceased to haunt the island."

How Kaffirs Bank Their Money.
The natives of that part of South Africa which to a great extent is inhabited by bushmen and Hottentots have a peculiar system of banks and banking.

These Kaffirs among whom this curious system of banking obtains live near Kaffraria, in the south of the Colony country. The natives come down south from their country to trade in the several villages and towns in large numbers and then return to Kaffraria.

From those who trade of their own number they select one who for the occasion is to be their banker. He is converted into a bank of deposit by putting all the money of those whose banker he is into a bag, and then they sail forth to the stores to buy whatever they want.

When an article is purchased by any of those who are in this banking arrangement, the price of the article is taken by the banker from this deposit money bag, counted several times and then paid to the seller of the article, after which all the bank depositors sail out to the banker in the presence of the two witnesses selected:

"You owe me so much!" This is then repeated by the witnesses. The general accounting comes between the banker and his several depositors when all desired purchases have been made, after which all the natives depart for their northern wilds.

Teaching Etiquette.

"Madam," he began as the door opened, "I am selling a new book on 'Etiquette and Deportment.'

"Oh, you are," she responded. "Go down there and clean the mud off your feet!"

"Yes'm. As I was saying, ma'am, I am sel"—

"Take off your hat. Never address a strange lady at her door without removing your hat."

"Yes'm. Now, then, as I was saying—"

"Take your hands out of your pockets. No gentleman ever carries his hands there."

"Yes'm. Now, ma'am, this work on 'Etiquette'—

"Throw away your pipe. If a gentleman uses tobacco, he is careful not to disgust others by the habit."

"Yes'm. Now, ma'am, in calling your attention to this valuable"—

"Wait. Put that dirty handkerchief out of sight and use less grease on your hair in the future. Now you look a bit decent. You have a book on 'Etiquette and Deportment.' Very well. I don't want it. I am only the servant girl. Go up the steps to the front door and talk with the lady of the house. She called me a downright, outright, no-doubt-about-it idiot this morning, and I think the book you're selling is just what she requires."

Industry and Success.

"There's nothin' like farmin' on a hill-side," said the man with the faded hair during a pause in the conversation, "if you pick out a good location."

"Do you mean to say," they asked him, "that you ever worked on a hill-side farm or anywhere else?"

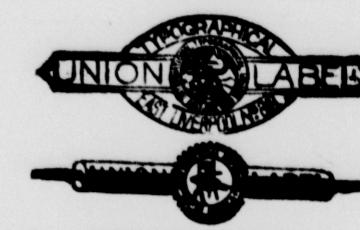

"Who said anything about workin'?" he rejoined. "I said hillside farmin' was all right if you picked out a good location. I had a location right down below a 40 acre farm where a feller put in one whole summer raisin' melons an' pumpkins. When they got ripe, they broke off from the vine an' rolled down on to my land. It was a good deal of bother to gather 'em up, but I done it. Made a pretty good thing out of it too."

"The story has it that Captain Torrens, wandering over the island one night in search of possible survivors,

It should be a deep-rooted principle of all union workmen and union sympathizers and particularly those members of the different organizations of East Liverpool, to buy nothing but Union Label goods, in preference to all others. The Union Label in every industry is a guarantee of fair wages, decent working hours and union labor employed.

CLARK BILL DEFEATED

Killed in the State Senate by a
Vote of 15 to 16.

THE VOTE WAS A BIG SURPRISE

A Motion to Reconsider Was Made and Lost—Friends of the Bill Thought They Would Have 18, and Perhaps 20, Votes Sure, But the Opposition Knew Better.

Columbus, March 14 (Special)—House bill No. 127, presented by Mr. Clark, "to provide further against the evils resulting from the traffic in intoxicating liquors, by local option in any municipal corporation and wards of municipal corporations in Ohio, and to amend and reenact section 11 of an act providing against the evils resulting from the traffic in intoxicating liquors, passed May 14, 1886, and amended April, 1888, and to repeal clause 5, section 1,682, revised statutes of Ohio, as amended April 11, 1890, commonly known as the Clark local option bill, which extends the right of local option to wards and townships, was defeated in the state senate this morning.

The vote stood 15 votes for to 16 votes against, killing the bill. A motion to reconsider the vote was made and lost.

The defeat of the measure was a big surprise to the supporters of the bill, who confidently counted upon 18 and possibly 20 votes for it.

THE SOLDIER VOTE.

Lisbon Veteran Writes of Pensions and the Work of Congressmen.

[From the Lisbon Patriot.]

Editor Daily Patriot:

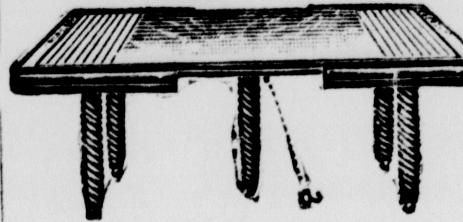

Dear Sir:—I overheard a conversation yesterday between two of Mr. R. W. Tayler's supporters that set my teeth on edge and caused me to do some thinking. The expression I object to was this: "Tayler will get the old soldier vote; they think he gives them their pensions." This was followed by a sarcastic laugh, which indicated the speaker's opinion of the old soldiers. Is it possible, I asked myself, that these politicians think that the old soldier is so ignorant and easy? I want to say to all people of this class that the old soldier is one of the most intelligent voters that goes to the polls, and understands what and who he is voting for, as well as anyone. He knows why he gets a pension. He knows that his case before the pension department depends on the report of the board of examiners and the evidence in the case. He knows it is one of the duties of a congressman to look after the interests of his constituents in such cases. He knows that the government, (not the congressman) employs and pays a clerk for each member of congress to attend to these duties. He knows that Ed. A. King, who is Mr. Tayler's clerk, at present receives the nice little salary of $2,000 per annum for attending to these duties.

He also knows that when an old soldier is a candidate for an office that he is qualified to fill, the old soldier will vote for the comrade rather than for the man who has never smelled powder and never will.

Yours Truly,
INDIGNANT OLD SOLDIER.

Attending a Wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. Hill left at noon for Sewickley where they will attend the wedding of Miss Margaret Courtney, of Ben Avon, and Mr. R. T. M. McCready, an attorney of Pittsburgh. Mr. McCready is well known here, having visited here frequently.

THE S. G. HARD CO.

A BUSY SESSION.

COUNCIL TRANSACTED A LOT OF BUSINESS.

BRIEF NOTES OF MATTERS HANDLED AT THE MEETING OF COUNCIL LAST NIGHT.

Council decided last night to let the new council wrestle with the street name problem. A representative of a Beaver Falls concern was present and gave them a long address on the quality of his designs.

Marshall, McHenry and Smith will take a trip to Boyce avenue, and decide how high Mr. Smith shall raise his house, as there is no established grade on the street.

Commissioner Bryan will build some steps at the Jethro bridge.

The light committee will locate a light on Denvers street, West End.

Council adopted a resolution last night accepting the report of the committee in regard to the valuation placed on the Pennsylvania farm lands.

Street committee reported awarding the contract for grading Orchard Grove avenue to John Lutton.

The mayor collected $54 last month.

The fire department answered two fire, two ambulance and 19 patrol calls last month. Twenty-three prisoners were hauled to the jail.

The street commissioner built a cinder walk the entire length of Trenton street last month.

Pay ordinance passed without a kick.

The railroad company was ordered to either place flagmen or safety gates at Ralston and Mulberry crossings, East End. Marshall said signal bell was no good and the places were dangerous.

There is some kick in regard to the assessments on West Market street, so the ordinance to assess a special tax for improving that street went to the solicitor, as council desires to be sure they are right before they go ahead.

Grade lines were established on Accommodation alley and Oblique street.

Sarah street residents want grade lines on the street with the north sidewalks three feet above the curb. The engineer will give council a profile of the street. Some of the residents want to make improvements.

An ordinance to improve Drury lane from Market to Jackson streets was passed.

A resolution establishing grade lines on Pennsylvania avenue from Vine to Rayne street was carried.

The ordinance to pave Kossuth street from Walnut street to the east line of Sugar alley was placed on its second reading.

Fourth street will be paved from Market street to West alley.

Every member of council except Seckerson was present. They met at 8 o'clock and adjourned at 10:20.

INFORMAL MUSICALE.

A Delightful Evening of Music at the Home of Col. John N. Taylor.

An informal musicale in honor of Miss Jessamine Martin, of Baltimore, was given at the residence of Colonel John N. Taylor, Sixth street, last evening. Mr. W. C. Weeden, of New York, was also a guest, and was the principal contributor to the program of the occasion. He sang several pleasing numbers, and, by request, "The Holy City." He was ably assisted by Miss Pearl Sebring, soprano, Mr. Ed. MacKintosh, baritone, Miss Carrie Kountz, pianist, and Mr. O. M. Couch, of Pittsburgh, accompanist.

Mr. Weeden has been here a great many times, but never has appeared in music of so pretentious a character. His beautiful voice was shown to its fullest and best advantage. Miss Sebring has a voice of lovely quality. Mr. MacKintosh sang two songs in his usual good form. Miss Kountz was enthusiastically received. She will no doubt occupy a prominent place among pianists in the near future. Mr. Couch won his way into the hearts of those present by his finished interpretation of the accompaniments, and also by his piano solo, Ethelbert Nevin's "Good Night," from "A Day in Venice," and, as an encore, a nocturne of his own, "Sweet Remembrance." Mr. Couch mentioned last night his intention of probably coming here in the near future to give the cantata "Queen Esther," if his engagements will permit.

Much has been said of the artists, but no number was more pleasing than the exquisite recital by little Miss Pauline Taylor of Whitcomb Riley's "Little Orphan Annie."

Mr. Weeden leaves for New York tomorrow. During the month of April he makes an extended concert tour with the Boston festival orchestra under the direction of Emil Mollenhaur. On Easter Sunday Mr. Weeden will sing the oratorio "Elijah" with the Handel and Haydn society of Boston, Mass.

CURRENCY BILL A LAW

President McKinley Affixed His Signature Today.

NO INTERNATIONAL BIMETALLISM

Overstreet Declared in the House That the Measure Made It Impossible—Nine Democrats Voted With the Republicans for the Bill.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—The president affixed his signature to the financial bill today and it thus became the law.

The last legislative step in the enactment of the financial bill was taken by the house of representatives Tuesday when the conference report on the bill was adopted by a vote of yeas, 166; nays, 120; absent and not voting, 10. The senate had already adopted the conference report.

The debate on the bill continued throughout Tuesday, Mr. Overstreet, of Indiana, opening and Mr. Brosius, of Pennsylvania, closing in support of the measure, while Mr. Little, of Arkansas, closed in opposition with a severe arraignment of the bill. Others also spoke.

During the debate Mr. Williams (Ills.) asked whether it would not be impossible, in case an international bimetallic agreement was reached, to escape paying the refunded 30-year 2 per cent gold bonds in gold and, such being the case, whether the bill could be considered an encouragement to international bimetallism.

"The bonds could be paid only in gold," responded Mr. Overstreet. "This bill holds out not the slightest hope of international bimetallism under present conditions. I say frankly that this bill will make it practically and absolutely impossible ever to have international bimetallism at the ratio of 16 to 1."

The vote was on party lines except that nine Democrats joined with the Republicans in supporting the conference report.

Nine Democrats voted with the Republicans to agree to the report, viz: Driggs, Underhill, Levy, Scudder, all of New York; Denny (Md.), McAleer (Pa.), Thayer and Fitzgerald (Mass.).

ALL MONEY AT PARITY WITH GOLD STANDARD.

Mr. Gage, Secretary of the Treasury, Explains the Provisions of the New Currency Law.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Secretary Gage made a statement in explanation of the provisions of the financial bill, in which he said in part:

The financial bill has for its first object the fixing of the standard of value and the maintaining at a parity with that standard of all forms of money issued or coined by the United States. It reaffirms that the unit of value of the dollar, consisting of 25.8-10 grains of gold nine-tenths fine, but from that point it goes on to make it the duty of the secretary of the treasury to maintain all forms of money issued or coined at a parity with this standard. It puts into the hands of the secretary ample power to do that. For that purpose the bill provides in the treasury bureaus of issue and redemption and transfers from the general fund of the treasury's cash $150,000,000 in gold coin and bullion to the redemption fund, that gold to be used for the redemption of United States notes and treasury notes. That fund is henceforth absolutely cut off and separated from the cash balance in the treasury, and the available cash balance will hereafter show a reduction of $150,000,000 from the figures that have heretofore prevailed. This $150,000,000 redemption fund is to be used for no other purpose than the redemption of United States notes and treasury notes, and those notes so redeemed may be exchanged for gold in the general fund or with the public, so that the reserve fund is kept full with gold to the $150,000,000 limit.

The secretary is given further power. If redemptions go on so that the gold in this reserve fund is reduced below $100,000,000 and he is unable to build it up to the $150,000,000 mark by exchange for gold in the general fund or otherwise he is given power to sell bonds and it is his duty to replenish the gold to the $150,000 mark by such means.

The "endless chain" is broken by a provision which prohibits the use of notes so redeemed to meet deficiencies in the current revenues. The act provides for the ultimate retirement of all the treasury notes issued in payment for bullion under the Sherman act. As fast as that bullion is coined into silver dollars treasury notes are to be retired and replaced with an equal amount of silver certificates.

The measure authorizes the issue of gold certificates in exchange for deposits of gold coin, the same as at present, but suspends that authority whenever and so long as the gold in the redemption fund is below $100,000,000 and gives the secretary the option to suspend the issue of such certificates whenever the silver certificates and United States notes in the general fund in the treasury exceed $60,000,000.

The bill provides for a larger issue of silver certificates by declaring that hereafter silver certificates shall be issued only in denominations of $10 and under, except as to 10 per cent of the total volume. Room is made for this larger use of silver certificates in the way of small bills by another provision which makes it necessary as fast as the present silver certificates of high denominations are broken up into small bills to cancel a similar volume of United States notes of small denominations and replace them with notes of $10 and upward. Further room is made for the circulation of small silver certificates by a clause which permits national banks to have only one-third of their capital in denomination under $10.

One clause of the bill which the public will greatly appreciate is the right that it gives to the secretary to coin any of the 1890 bullion into subsidiary silver coins up to a limit of $100,000,000. There has for years been a scarcity of subsidiary silver during periods of active retail trade, but this provision will give the treasury ample opportunity to supply all the subsidiary silver now in the treasury or hereafter received.

The bill makes a continuing appropriation for paying the difference between the face value of such coin and the amount the same will produce in the new coin. A distinct feature of the bill is in reference to refunding the 3 per cent Spanish war loan, the 2 per cent bonds maturing in 1907 and the 5 per cent bonds maturing in 1904, a total of $30,000,000 into new 2 per cent bonds. These new 2 per cent bonds will not be offered for sale but will only be issued in exchange for an equal amount, face value, of old bonds. The holders of old bonds will receive a premium in cash to compensate them, in a measure, for the sacrifice of interest which they make. That cash premium will be computed on a basis of the present worth of the old bonds at 2½ per cent, and will be on April 1, the date that the new 2 per cent bonds will bear, $105.6851 for the $5, $111.675 for the $4 and $110.0751 for each $100 of the $5. This exchange will save the government, after deducting the premium paid, nearly $23,000,000, if all the holders of the old bonds exchange them for the new ones. National banks that take out circulation based on the new bonds are to be taxed only one-half of 1 per cent on the average amount of circulation outstanding, while those who have circulation based on a deposit of old bonds will be taxed, as at present, 1 per cent.

There are some other changes in the national banking act. The law permits national banks with $25,000 capital to be organized in places of 3,000 inhabitants or less, whereas heretofore the minimum capital has been $50,000. It also permits banks to issue circulation on all classes of bonds deposited up to the par value of the bonds, instead of 90 per cent of their face as heretofore. This ought to make an immediate increase in national bank circulation of something like $24,000,000, as the amount of bonds now deposited to secure circulation is about $22,000,000. If the price of the new bonds is not forced so high in the market that there is no profit left to national banks in taking out circulation, we may also look for a material increase in national bank circulation based on additional deposits of bonds.

National banks are permitted under the law to issue circulation up to an amount equal to their capital. The total capital of all national banks is $616,000,000. There is, therefore, a possibility of increase in circulation of $663,000,000, although the price of the new per cent bonds, as already foreshadowed by market quotations in advance of their issue promises to be so high that the profit to the banks in taking out circulation will not be enough to make the increase anything like such a possible total.

NEAR BOERS' CAPITAL

Roberts May Enter Bloemfontein Today.

FRENCH CAPTURED TWO HILLS.

From These Positions, Close to the Station, He Commanded the Town Salisbury's Attitude Toward Boers Mostly Approved.

LONDON, March 14.—4:30 a. m.—The dispatch from Cape Town saying that General French has "arrived at Bloemfontein" probably does not mean that he has entered the city.

The Boers may make another fight, but there is little doubt that Lord Roberts will occupy Bloemfontein today. The Boers retiring from Orange river will find themselves between two British armies, and their guns are almost bound to fall into the hands of the British, while the occupation of the capital of the Free State will strain the alliance of the two republics to the utmost.

The government will not allow the Kruger-Steyn appeal to influence in any way their determination not to spare any effort to prosecute the war. There will be no diminution of measures calculated to maintain the full efficiency of the field force and whatever reinforcements were previously considered advisable will still be sent out.

Lord Salisbury's reply meets with unanimous approval.

The war office received a dispatch from Lord Roberts announcing that after a fight with the Boers, Gen. French occupied two hills close to the station commanding Bloemfontein.

ELDER MANSELL.

OFFICIAL OF THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Criticises His Action in Resigning and His Last Sermon Sunday Night.

In reply to an inquiry as to the cause of Elder Mansell's recent actions, an official of the church said this morning: "No, I can hardly see the justice in his actions and manner, because the church board asked him twice by a unanimous vote to stay; the congregation was asked to reject his resignation, which they did by unanimous vote. Mansell says 'if the board of elders had come to him after he had resigned, even the second time, and coaxed him, it might have all been fixed up and he'd staid.' But the board of elders felt as though they could treat the matter only in a business manner, and not make child's play of the church.

"The elders have regarded Mr. Mansell as rather a nice young man and have allowed him to conduct matters generally to suit himself, and while he did many things which they did not approve of, they overlooked them at all times, on the grounds that Elder Mansell was but a very young man with a very short experience in the pastorate and were ready at all times to forgive his errors. But it appears he now regrets his action in resigning, as he failed to secure several positions he had expected, and had gone too far to ask for the position here. He asked for his church letters Saturday and was informed that they would be granted in due time, or as soon as he left. But Lord's day morning he had the congregation vote on giving him letters; this was as foolish as was his resignation.

"Yes, sir, Rev. Mansell got every penny due him on his salary last Monday night, which was $1,050 per year. The church has had a prosperous year, raising more than $3,300, and has been in splendid order and unison up until the present time; what effect the disturbance he has caused, we hope will not be taken seriously by the membership, as there was no cause whatever for such acts.

"Yes, he goes of his own volition and without any just cause, the same for his unhappy condition.

"What do I think of his action Sunday night? Well, let the public judge, from the advantage of the opportunity, it being his last sermon it could hardly be compared with the last sermon on the mount, and hardly as mild as he reported to the newspapers."

TOOK SOME WARE.

Attempted Robbery In a Second Street Store at Noon Today.

Shortly before noon today several men under the influence of liquor entered the notion store of Mrs. Meister on Second street. After they went out Mrs. Meister noticed some ware missing from the counter. She went to the corner of Union and Second streets, where the men were standing, and accused one of the men of robbing her. The men started away and one of them dropped several pieces of ware that were hidden under his coat. The matter was not reported to the police.

A SMOKER.

John Powell, of This City, Attended One in Pittsburgh Last Night.

Last evening, at Pittsburg, a smoker was given to the printers of that city, who are on a strike. The talent was of the best, and included selections on the violin, saxophone and piano. The solos were very pretty, and the Harris quartet added greatly to the pleasure of the evening. One of the most pleasing features of the evening was the presentation of a large silk flag by Otto Schnette, of Allegheny, to "Old Seven." John Powell, of this city, attended the banquet.

The following funds are overdrawn: General, $9,604.94; street, $18,538.83; interest, $3,916.48; sanitary, $1,042.27.

GRIM GIVEN JUDGMENT IN ROSE'S COURT

For $104 Against the City and $47.75 Against the Mayor, With Interest.

The jury in the Grim case was out one hour and a half yesterday afternoon, when they returned a verdict for the plaintiff and said that the city should pay him $104, with interest, and Mayor Bough should pay him $47.75. This didn't entirely dispose of the matter, as Solicitor McGarry told the square to prepare a transcript, as the case would be carried to common pleas court for settlement.

Suit was entered in the same court by John Whan for $160.50. The case will be heard Monday at 1 o'clock, but Solicitor McGarry will make no defense, but prefers to let it take the same course as the Grim case.

The law permits national banks with $25,000 capital to be organized in places of 3,000 inhabitants or less, whereas heretofore the minimum capital has been $50,000. It also permits banks to issue circulation on all classes of bonds deposited up to the par value of the bonds, instead of 90 per cent of their face as heretofore. This ought to make an immediate increase in national bank circulation of something like $24,000,000, as the amount of bonds now deposited to secure circulation is about $22,000,000. If the price of the $s is not forced so high in the market that there is no profit left to national banks in taking out circulation, we may also look for a material increase in national bank circulation based on additional deposits of bonds.

National banks are permitted under the law to issue circulation up to an amount equal to their capital. The total capital of all national banks is $616,000,000. There is, therefore, a possibility of increase in circulation of $363,000,000, although the price of the new per cent bonds, as already foreshadowed by market quotations in advance of their issue promises to be so high that the profit to the banks in taking out circulation will not be enough to make the increase anything like such a possible total.

NEAR BOERS' CAPITAL

Roberts May Enter Bloemfontein Today.

FRENCH CAPTURED TWO HILLS.

From These Positions, Close to the Station, He Commanded the Town Salisbury's Attitude Toward Boers Mostly Approved.

LONDON, March 14.—4:30 a. m.—The dispatch from Cape Town saying that General French has "arrived at Bloemfontein" probably does not mean that he has entered the city.

The Boers may make another fight, but there is little doubt that Lord Roberts will occupy Bloemfontein today. The Boers retiring from Orange river will find themselves between two British armies, and their guns are almost bound to fall into the hands of the British, while the occupation of the capital of the Free State will strain the alliance of the two republics to the utmost.

The government will not allow the Kruger-Steyn appeal to influence in any way their determination not to spare any effort to prosecute the war. There will be no diminution of measures calculated to maintain the full efficiency of the field force and what reinforcements were previously considered advisable will still be sent out.

Lord Salisbury's reply meets with unanimous approval.

The war office received a dispatch from Lord Roberts announcing that after a fight with the Boers, Gen. French occupied two hills close to the station commanding Bloemfontein.

ELDER MANSELL.

OFFICIAL OF THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Criticises His Action in Resigning and His Last Sermon Sunday Night.

In reply to an inquiry as to the cause of Elder Mansell's recent actions, an official of the church said this morning: "No, I can hardly see the justice in his actions and manner, because the church board asked him twice by a unanimous vote to stay; the congregation was asked to reject his resignation, which they did by unanimous vote. Mansell says 'if the board of elders had come to him after he had resigned, even the second time, and coaxed him, it might have all been fixed up and he'd staid.' But the board of elders felt as though they could treat the matter only in a business manner, and not make child's play of the church.

"The elders have regarded Mr. Mansell as rather a nice young man and have allowed him to conduct matters generally to suit himself, and while he did many things which they did not approve of, they overlooked them at all times, on the grounds that Elder Mansell was but a very young man with a very short experience in the pastorate and were ready at all times to forgive his errors. But it appears he now regrets his action in resigning, as he failed to secure several positions he had expected, and had gone too far to ask for the position here. He asked for his church letters Saturday and was informed that they would be granted in due time, or as soon as he left. But Lord's day morning he had the congregation vote on giving him letters; this was as foolish as was his resignation.

"Yes, sir, Rev. Mansell got every penny due him on his salary last Monday night, which was $1,050 per year. The church has had a prosperous year, raising more than $3,300, and has been in splendid order and unison up until the present time; what effect the disturbance he has caused, we hope will not be taken seriously by the membership, as there was no cause whatever for such acts.

"Yes, he goes of his own volition and without any just cause, the same for his unhappy condition.

"What do I think of his action Sunday night? Well, let the public judge, from the advantage of the opportunity, it being his last sermon it could hardly be compared with the last sermon on the mount, and hardly as mild as he reported to the newspapers."

EAST END.

Mrs. Enoch Riley is confined to the home of her son with a severe attack of rheumatism.

A number of East End residents have commenced to trim their grape vines. Martin Elliott has the largest vineyard in the suburb and he is the first to commence the trimming.

Contractor Harvey McHenry stated yesterday that it was his intention to start the brick work on the new East End school building within the next ten days. Work was to have been started last Monday, but the weather was so bad this was found to be impossible. Two stone cutters are working at the building trimming stone.

There is a dead dog, killed by a street car several weeks ago, lying on Pennsylvania avenue near the entrance to Columbian park, that should be removed.

Miss Carrie Huskins, of Martin's Ferry, is spending a few weeks at the home of her sister, Miss Annie Huskins, of St. George street.

The annual business meeting of the congregation of the Second United Presbyterian church will be held in the lecture room of the church this evening.

Mr. and Mrs. John Goddard, of Erie street, are very ill at their home. Both are suffering with threatened attack of fever.

The electric signal bell at the Mulberry street crossing is again out of order. It seems practically worthless.

William Chaffin, of Eliza, Ky., is a guest at the home of his father on Erie street. He will remain there several weeks.

Clement Lemon, of Mulberry street, who was seriously injured while at work on the Crookery City Brewery last week is improving steadily and his friends hope he will be able to be out within a few days.

Dr. W. E. Mowen, of Mulberry street, left for Deerfield yesterday, where he will remain several days visiting old friends.

William Orin, of First avenue, is confined to his home with a bad attack of cramp. His condition is not serious.

There is a dead cow buried in George Pearson's lot in East End near the run and the water is washing it out. The stench is something fearful, and as the nuisance is within the corporation limits, the health officer is asked to look after the matter.

Dr. and Mrs. R. J. Marshall entertained the F. F. F. F. club at their home on Mulberry street last evening. The young gentlemen friends of the members of the club had also been invited, and the affair was a most delightful surprise.

SOUTH SIDE.

The older residents of the South Side say that Dr. J. N. Russell was the first person to die in Chester who lived on the flat, or east of Cunningham's run. A number of deaths have occurred in Chester recently but they all resided west of the run.

Several amateur photographers went to the Chester rolling mill yesterday and took a number of views of the works.

There will be an immense amount of building on the South Side during the coming summer. Contractor J. T. Smith was in Chester yesterday afternoon. He said: "From what I know now there will be $25,000 expended in building in Chester this year. The houses that will be erected on the Taylor, Lee and Smith addition will cost in the neighborhood of $20,000, while houses to be put up by the Finley Brothers and Contractor Silvermore will swell the amount to not less than $35,000." The building will commence very soon. It is said over 100 houses will be built there during the year.

A new house is being erected on Carolina avenue for James McDonald.

Treasurer Voegely, of the Chester Rolling Mill company, stated yesterday that the mill would be started not later than the middle of May.

Garret Mercer has secured the contract for the hauling of stone for the foundation of several new houses that are to be built on Carolina avenue.

The work of repairing the bridge on First street has been completed.

Mrs. James Russell, of Chester, who buried her husband in Mason City, W. Va., last Sunday is expected to return to the South Side tomorrow. She intends to dispose of her interest in the Chester Drug company.

Eph. Johnson left this morning for McKees Rocks, where he will remain during the week doing some work in that locality for the railroad company.

Toll Collector Thomas Todd is very ill at his home on Fourth street with an attack of quinsy. His duties at the bridge are being looked after by his son.

WANT AN INCREASE.

A New Ordinance Defining the Duties of the Solicitor Introduced Last Night.

An effort will be made to increase the salary of the solicitor and the first step in the matter was taken at the meeting of council last night when an ordinance was introduced defining the duties of the solicitor but not fixing the salary, that portion of the ordinance being left blank.

The ordinance was referred to a committee composed of Marshall Smith and Ashbaugh. It was not favored by any member of council and it is not thought the present salary of $600 will be increased. It is said that the solicitor elect, Gaston, desires the salary fixed at $1,000 per annum.

Harry took the hint and offered himself on the spot.

R. W. TAYLER'S CAREER.

His Investigation of the Roberts Case Was Fair and Thorough.

[From the Detroit Free Press.]

Another man brought to the fore, in a far more enviable light, is Representative R. W. Tayler, conducting the case against Roberts. Mr. Tayler is from the old McKinley district, and has an exceptional equipment for the task he has undertaken. In appearance he is not of the robust order of statesmen. With fair face, shoulders that he has always permitted to droop, indispensable eye glasses, modest demeanor, and kindly instincts, he is among the last of men that a casual observer would pick as fitting leaders where nerve, aggressiveness and fearless determination must be joined with an ability to give and take in legal controversy.

But this passing judgment would be at widest variance with the truth. College mates of Tayler will recall the deceptiveness of this outward appearance. It concealed muscles of steel and a will that had only to be right in order to be invincible. He was the peer of any amateur baseball catcher in his day, and held the same enviable place as a student of the classics.

Mr. Tayler entered upon the activities of life with no advantages save those given him by nature and education. He taught school in the historic old town of Lisbon, edited a paper of influence, spent his nights acquiring a knowledge of law, and is today a scholarly, cultured, deeply-versed representative of the honorable profession to which he belongs. The severest adverse criticism he has ever received was from a learned judge who declared that his reasoning was so nearly perfect as to be invulnerable and so absolutely honest that it might lose him cases where a logician less conscientious might win.

In the light of this knowledge there is the strong presumption of a formidable case against Roberts or Congressman Tayler would not be its champion. There is also the assurance that the man from Utah must meet the situation just as it is and abide by the consequences. He will be held to the text by a quiet power that he cannot escape.

MADE A RECORD.

Members of the First Presbyterian Church Are Proud of Their Achievement.

Last year the First Presbyterian church of this city needed $4,000 to pay off the church debt and it was decided to raise the money, if possible, by public subscription. No notice was given the congregation until one Sunday morning when Doctor Lee, the pastor, made a statement to the congregation and the subscriptions were taken simply by members holding up their hands and pledging so much. The amounts ranged from 50 cents to $100, and men, women and children donated, and $4,804 was pledged to be paid in three and six months. The remarkable feature of the whole affair is the fact that the entire amount, except $80, was paid within the time specified and the record is one that has seldom, if ever, been equalled and is considered remarkable in church history.

Superintendent M. M. All the pictures show happy faces, smiling with content, well nourished and well dressed children, who would not be recognized for the homeless, neglected waifs when first taken into the home. All reflect great credit upon Superintendent Southworth and the institution.

Concerning the home, the Lisbon Patriot says:

TRANS-ATLANTIC TRAVELERS

Furnished Special Attendants by the Pennsylvania System.

The bureau of attendants for trans-Atlantic travelers established in Jersey City and New York City twenty years ago by the Pennsylvania system, has proven a great convenience to persons making European trips and to tourists arriving in America at that port. It will be particularly convenient for visitors to the Paris exposition because the departure docks of most of the Atlantic steamship lines are convenient to the new Jersey City passenger station of the Pennsylvania Railroad company.

This bureau consists of experienced agents whose duties are to meet passengers arriving in Jersey City and New York over the Pennsylvania lines and assist them in arranging for trans-Atlantic trips via any of the steamship lines by conducting them to steamships and aiding in preparations for a trip abroad.

These agents will provide cabs operated by the Pennsylvania system and aid passengers with their baggage. They are fully posted on matters pertaining to steamships leaving New York, and arrangements can be made through them for procuring steamship tickets in advance.

They also meet incoming steamships to aid travelers in shaping details for continuing journeys from New York over the Pennsylvania lines by furnishing tickets, arranging for the transfer of baggage from steamship docks after it has been passed by customs inspectors, and having the same checked through to destination. They will reserve sleeping car accommodations and relieve persons of the foregoing details, making themselves useful as attendants and guides free of charge.

Further information on the subject may be obtained by addressing the nearest Pennsylvania lines ticket agent, or C. L. Kimball, assistant general passenger agent, Cleveland, Ohio.

An Ordinance Regulating the Business Was Introduced Last Night.

The city may have a pawnbroker's shop. Last night at council an ordinance was introduced regulating pawnbrokers, and it is understood that a party has already applied for a license. The ordinance did not fix the license fee, but Solicitor McGarry stated that Youngstown charged $25 per year, while Canton charged from $25 to $200. The ordinance went to the ordinance committee.

TRANS-ATLANTIC TRAVELERS

Furnished Special Attendants by the Pennsylvania System.

The bureau of attendants for trans-Atlantic travelers established in Jersey City and New York City twenty years ago by the Pennsylvania system, has proven a great convenience to persons making European trips and to tourists arriving in America at that port. It will be particularly convenient for visitors to the Paris exposition because the departure docks of most of the Atlantic steamship lines are convenient to the new Jersey City passenger station of the Pennsylvania Railroad company.

This bureau consists of experienced agents whose duties are to meet passengers arriving in Jersey City and New York over the Pennsylvania lines and assist them in arranging for trans-Atlantic trips via any of the steamship lines by conducting them to steamship lines and aiding in preparations for a trip abroad.

These agents will provide cabs operated by the Pennsylvania system and aid passengers with their baggage. They are fully posted on matters pertaining to steamships leaving New York, and arrangements can be made through them for procuring steamship tickets in advance.

They also meet incoming steamships to aid travelers in shaping details for continuing journeys from New York over the Pennsylvania lines by furnishing tickets, arranging for the transfer of baggage from steamship docks after it has been passed by customs inspectors, and having the same checked through to destination. They will reserve sleeping car accommodations and relieve persons of the foregoing details, making themselves useful as attendants and guides free of charge.

Further information on the subject may be obtained by addressing the nearest Pennsylvania lines ticket agent, or C. L. Kimball, assistant general passenger agent, Cleveland, Ohio.

TWO WOMEN IN JAIL

Martha Burns and Minnie Carroll Arrested Last Night.

BOTH OF THEM WERE DRUNK

Martha Says Her Home is in Salem and She Wants to Go Back—She May Go to the Works, and Minnie May Also Take the Trip.

The mayor had two members of the fairer sex to dispose of this morning.

The first one was Martha Burns, who is also known as Annie Jones. She was arrested last night at the corner of Second and Union streets by Officer White. When found she had a bottle in her possession, which was about a quarter full. Martha said she came to this city from Salem about a week ago. She said she was not drunk last night, but had drunk some during the day. She said she was married, but was not living with her husband at present. The mayor fined her $14.60. She is very anxious to go home, but will probably go to the works instead.

Minnie Carroll got drunk yesterday and went to a Sixth street residence and asked for a room. While there she fell on the floor. The patrol was called and Minnie was taken to city hall. The mayor fined her $9.60 this morning and told her she was a good candidate for the works.

COMING ATTRACTIONS.

"Jack and the Beanstalk" Tonight.

Lovers of operatic extravaganza will hail with delight the appearance of R. A. Barnett's popular "Jack and the Beanstalk" at the Grand tonight. The management have spared no expense, and the production is one of the highest standard. The same scenery and a number of the players, who made so pronounced a success in New York and other of the leading cities, have been retained. The critics have given this play unstinted praise, and the East Liverpool theatergoers will miss the best show of the season if they fail to see it. Don't forget that it will appear at the Grand tonight.

Thursday Night
"The Wealthy Widow Wiggles" will appear at the Grand. The show is headed by Miss St. George Hussey, and has been a record breaker this season.

Friday Night
"The Corner Grocery" comes to the Grand. It has been here before and needs no recommendation.

Saturday Night.
Gillette's latest success, "Because She Loved Him So," will be the attraction. It is one of Charles Frohman's.

"The Christian."
"The Christian" comes to the Grand Thursday night. Over 45 people take part in the cast, and the company carry all their own scenery, which requires two cars for its transportation. Miss Effie Ellsler will be seen as "Glory Quayle" and J. M. Colville as "John Storm." The play is fully as strong in popular dramatic situations as "The Sign of the Cross," the only piece to which it can be compared. While religious zeal and endeavor is its keynote, so to say, yet through the tale travels the factor of romance.

Aged Man Suicided.

PITTSBURG, March 14.—Archibald Somerville, aged 67, who has been separated from his wife, shot and killed himself on the steps of the house where she is staying in McKeesport. He had made several threats, his wife says, to end her existence and his own.

PARK COMMISSION.

Chal G. Peterson Is the New Member Selected to Fill the Vacancy.

Chal G. Peterson was chosen by council last night to serve on the park commission in place of N. A. Frederick, who resigned. Ashbaugh stated that he had received a letter from Prof. W. L. Thompson saying he would be home April 16 or 17. Gus Brandenburg was suggested by Marshall as a member of the park commission, but his name was withdrawn after it had been found that Ashbaugh had asked Peterson to serve. Marshall wanted to know if the park commission had been legally and properly appointed. McGarry didn't think it had, and he will prepare an ordinance to present at the next regular meeting.

ON THE TABLE.

The Bell Telephone Underground Ordinance Wasn't Passed by Council.

Last night at council Smith handed the Bell telephone ordinance and the ordinance granting C. A. Smith the right to erect poles in the city to Clerk Hanley. The Smith ordinance was permitted to go over to its third reading, and when the Bell telephone ordinance was reached Clerk Hanley said Mr. Purinton had informed him that the company would never accept the ordinance if it regulated the prices they should charge. Marshall at once moved that the ordinance be laid on the table, and that is where it went by a unanimous vote.

THE NEW MAYOR

May Take His Seat the Day After Election if He Wants to, but it is Customary to Wait a Few Days.

The newly-elected mayor may take his seat any time after his election on Monday, April 2, but it is usually customary to wait until after the first regular meeting of the new council, in order to give the outgoing mayor time to complete his monthly report. He is usually sworn in by the outgoing mayor. It is probable the custom will be followed this year.

BEING DELAYED.

STREET RAILWAY EXTENSION SHORT OF RAILS.

Should Have Been Here March 1, But Work Will Be Begun This Month Sure.

When the franchises for the Pleasant Heights and Riverview extension of the street railway company were granted by council it was stated that work would be begun on the new lines March 1. Nothing, however, has been done, except the placing of poles, which was done late in the fall.

Manager L. W. Healy was asked about the delay, and said it was due to the failure to receive the special rails necessary for the work. These were, according to the contract, to be delivered March 1, but up to date nothing has been seen of them. As soon as they arrive track laying will be begun and will be pushed vigorously, with the object of giving the hill districts street car service just as early as possible. Mr. Healy believes the special rails will arrive soon and work will be begun this month certain. The first work will be the extension of the line from Third to the Diamond. After that the Pleasant Heights and Calcutta road lines will be begun, and work will proceed on both simultaneously until completed. Once active work is started, it will not take long to have the cars running. It has been suggested that as it is the intention of council to pave Calcutta road this summer, the tracks should be laid ahead of the improvement, so that the street will not have to be torn up thereafter.

Quick at a Hint.

Mr. Slyman, the bookkeeper, received a present of $10 from his employer. He expected more and was greatly disappointed. He dropped the money on the floor in the presence of his employer, as if accidentally, and stooped to pick it up.

"Did you find it all?" asked his employer after a few minutes.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 12.

Though only 19 years old, I suffered from pains and female troubles two years. Last spring I got so bad I had to quit work. I had to support myself, and could not afford a high-priced doctor. McELREE'S Wine of Cardui

Many girls and women find it necessary to earn their own living in various kinds of employment. Their work is often so hard and confining that the health breaks down. Their delicate constitutions are unfitted for tiresome tasks. Weakness nearly always makes its appearance in the peculiarly delicate womanly organs. Constant standing on the feet, and coming and going at the beck of a superintendent or foreman, induces falling of the womb, leucorrhœa, headache and backache. The pay of women workers is often so notoriously small that when sickness comes they have no money to engage skillful physicians. To them Wine of Cardui is truly a blessing. It cures them of their ills at a small cost, and they can act as their own physicians. No doctor can do as much for "female troubles" as Wine of Cardui.

AT THE JUBILEE.

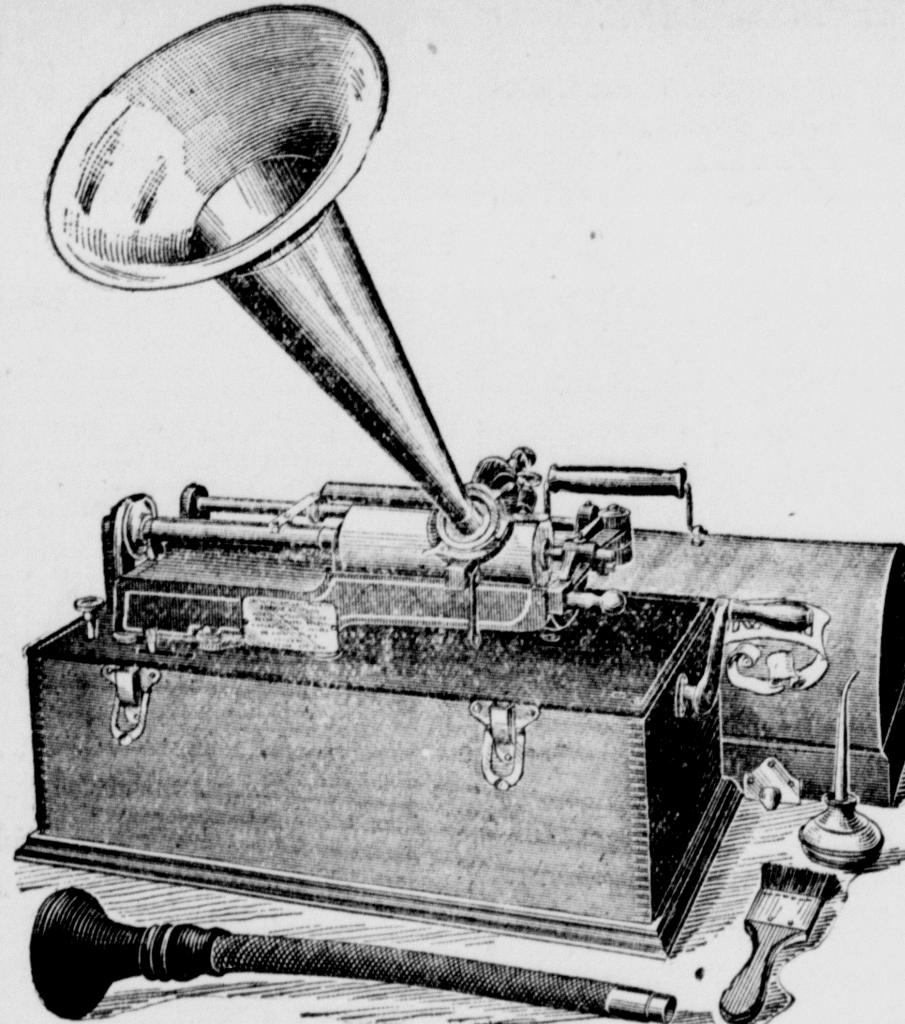

City council held a jubilee last night. They had "a monkey and a parrot time." The breeze from Kentucky evidently permeates the ambrosial locks of our solons.

AN IMPORTANT QUESTION.

You will note that an effort will be made, on April 2, to place certain men in council who are to be made the mere creatures of the whisky ring, subject to their control and orders, no matter what or who else suffers. Nip this in the bud. The nominees of the Republican ticket are all right as slated and will, we believe, aim to give us good government. Mark the men who kick and who work against the party, simply because they could not obtain that for which they aimed, and who enact the part of the dog in the manger.

TAXPAYERS.

The new method of making the decennial appraisal, taking the actual value of the land, may vitally affect future street assessments. Heretofore the valuation was 40 per cent of the actual value and the law limited the assessment to 25 per cent of the valuation, which meant 10 per cent of the actual value. Under the new method the 25 per cent of the valuation will be 25 per cent of the actual value or one fourth, and 15 per cent

THE EDISON HOME PHONOGRAPH. $30.00.

SMITH & PHILLIPS, - East Liverpool, Ohio

15 TO 16.

This was the vote on the Clark bill in its final destruction and failure to pass. It could have been, in our opinion, much more against it in case of necessity. In other words, it looks like a cut and dried affair, fixed to order. It seems at first sight to mark the defeat of the better class of citizens who stand in opposition to the saloon and who desire their residences protected against its inroads, but to a man possessed of faith in the right it bears the impression of good, because of the indignation which will be felt by all right minded citizens who will hereafter concentrate their energy to defeat each and every individual who would be guilty of such an imposition upon the public.

THE "GRIM" VERDICT.

It has caused comment all over the city. And the end is not yet. The case will now go to a higher tribunal, and a strong effort will be made, by proper legal talent, to have it decided on its merits. City Solicitor McGarry evidently builded on solid ground. He had good reasons for his action, as the prosecutors in the case will find in due season. The race is not always to the swift. The common remark on the street last night was that there were two arguments made in favor of Grim at the trial yesterday—one by the attorney in charge and one by the magistrate before whom the case was being tried. The average intelligent citizen, irrespective of party lines, smiles at the utter absurdity of the verdict as rendered, and classes it as a "wan and grim joke." What shall the harvest be? It may be more serious and far-reaching than now appears on the surface. We bide our time and await developments.

Finished Their Work.

Henry Rhead, E. J. Whitehead and James Devlin, of Trenton, who have been in the city for several days on business connected with the uniform wage scale, have returned to their homes.

MAPS ARE MADE.

County Surveyor Has Them For Every City and Township In the County.

Ex-County Surveyor I. P. Farmer, who had a contract to furnish a complete set of maps and plats of the county, has finished the work, which was begun last September. Every township, village and city in the county was mapped out by hand. The different townships are bound in separate books, and the cities are also in separate volumes. Duplicates were made to be used by the land appraisers. Heretofore the county has had a jumbled mass of maps and plats of the county, without system or any regard to convenience.

AN IMPORTANT QUESTION.

You will note that an effort will be made, on April 2, to place certain men in council who are to be made the mere creatures of the whisky ring, subject to their control and orders, no matter what or who else suffers. Nip this in the bud. The nominees of the Republican ticket are all right as stated and will, we believe, aim to give us good government. Mark the men who kick and who work against the party, simply because they could not obtain that for which they aimed, and who enact the part of the dog in the manger.

TAXPAYERS.

The new method of making the decennial appraisal, taking the actual value of the land, may vitally affect future street assessments. Heretofore the valuation was 40 per cent of the actual value and the law limited the assessment to 25 per cent of the valuation, which meant 10 per cent of the actual value. Under the new method the 25 per cent of the valuation will be 25 per cent of the actual value or one fourth, and 15 per cent

15 TO 16.

This was the vote on the Clark bill in its final destruction and failure to pass. It could have been, in our opinion, much more against it in case of necessity. In other words, it looks like a cut and dried affair, fixed to order. It seems at first sight to mark the defeat of the better class of citizens who stand in opposition to the saloon and who desire their residences protected against its inroads, but to a man possessed of faith in the right it bears the impression of good, because of the indignation which will be felt by all right minded citizens who will hereafter concentrate their energy to defeat each and every individual who would be guilty of such an imposition upon the public.

THE "GRIM" VERDICT.

It has caused comment all over the city. And the end is not yet. The case will now go to a higher tribunal, and a strong effort will be made, by proper legal talent, to have it decided on its merits. City Solicitor McGarry evidently builded on solid ground. He had good reasons for his action, as the prosecutors in the case will find in due season. The race is not always to the swift. The common remark on the street last night was that there were two arguments made in favor of Grim at the trial yesterday—one by the attorney in charge and one by the magistrate before whom the case was being tried.

The average intelligent citizen, irrespective of party lines, smiles at the utter absurdity of the verdict as rendered, and classes it as a "wan and grim joke." What shall the harvest be? It may be more serious and far-reaching than now appears on the surface. We bide our time and await developments.

Finished Their Work.

Henry Rhead, E. J. Whitehead and James Devlin, of Trenton, who have been in the city for several days on business connected with the uniform wage scale, have returned to their homes.

MUST GET NEW HORSES

Council Goes After Adams' Express Company.

CLERK HANLEY IS INSTRUCTED

To Notify the Agent That the Company Must Get Better Horses or It Will Be Prosecuted Under the Humane Act—Peach Makes a Speech.

Council last night decided by a unanimous vote instructing Clerk Hanley to notify the Adams Express company to use better horses in their wagons, or their agent would be arrested under the humane act, and the order will be complied with, as council will see that it is enforced.

The matter was brought up in council last night by Peach who said: "I make a motion authorizing the clerk to instruct the Adams Express company to take out the present horses they are using in their wagons, as they are violating the state law in regard to cruelty to animals. They have poor old horses hauling wagons weighing 1,400 pounds up the hills. No man is so poor that he would do what this rich corporation does. It is a disgrace to the company and a shame to the city that they permit it. They should be compelled to follow out the instructions given them by the clerk and made to bring better horses here or use two horses to every wagon. Marshall seconded the motion, and it carried unanimously.

THE SEWER COMMISSIONERS WANTED MONEY.

Council Wants Report of Work Done—Marshall Wants to Be Enlightened.

Every time the sewer commissioners ask for money it causes a debate in council, and last night was no exception to the rule.

Clerk Hanley reported that the sewer commissioners wanted $1,000 to carry on the work in district No. 2. Smith thought the commissioners should make report as to how much they had spent on the sewer and let council know about it. McHenry said council had decided to give them money from time to time as they needed it and he didn't want the work delayed. Peach said they ought to get the money, but he also thought they should make a report. It was finally decided to give them the money, but after it was over Marshall moved that the solicitor prepare a written report and give it to council in regard to just what shape sewer district No. 2 was in, as he desired to be clear as to whether council was acting legally in everything they were doing.

MAPS ARE MADE.

County Surveyor Has Them For Every City and Township In the County.

Ex-County Surveyor I. P. Farmer, who had a contract to furnish a complete set of maps and plats of the county, has finished the work, which was begun last September. Every township, village and city in the county was mapped out by hand. The different townships are bound in separate books, and the cities are also in separate volumes. Duplicates were made to be used by the land appraisers. Heretofore the county has had a jumbled mass of maps and plats of the county, without system or any regard to convenience.

M'GARRY AND MARSHALL

Had a Short Debate at Council Last Night.

SOLICITOR POSITIVELY REFUSED

To Draw Up a Resolution Paying Some Money to the African M. E. Church, Saying That He Didn't Think the Action of Council Was Legal.

Solicitor McGarry and Mr. Marshall indulged in a short debate last night at council that was highly enjoyed by the large attendance.

Chairman Ashbaugh, of the committee appointed to view the damage to the African M. E. church caused by the grading of Grant street, reported that the committee had viewed the property and found that it had cost the church about $700 to repair their property.

He stated that the committee had decided that council should pay the congregation $200. Cain spoke in favor of the motion, and Peach said the church should be allowed that much. Marshall didn't think it was altogether right and suggested that the assessment of the church be refunded. McHenry didn't think it could be legally paid, but said if it could he would be willing to vote for it. McGarry said unless an unreasonable grade had been established the bill could not be paid. There was some more talk on the subject, and finally Fisher moved that the report of the committee be received and the request granted. The vote on the motion was four to three, Marshall, McHenry and Smith voting against it. Then McGarry said the motion should be separated and the report of the committee was received. Clerk Hanley reported that the assessment of the church would amount to $90.30, and Marshall moved that the assessment be refunded and the church be given $109.70. This motion carried, but another snag was encountered when Solicitor McGarry stated that he objected to drawing up a resolution to pay the amount when he didn't think it could be legally done. Marshall remarked that he couldn't see how the solicitor could recommend council to pay one claim for $400 and couldn't draw up this resolution. McGarry remarked that some men's minds were not large enough to see the difference in the two cases, and that was the trouble with Marshall—he was not capable of taking it in.

Marshall remarked that no good thing ever reflected from McGarry, and the solicitor promptly replied that it was probably because he had been in such bad company. The debate ended at this stage and Clerk Hanley said that council was becoming as bad as congress, while Cain said they had better move down to Kentucky. Peach wanted the clerk to draw up the resolution until they could get some legal advice, but the matter was finally laid over for four weeks.

POLICE RULES.

COUNCIL ADOPTED THEM LAST NIGHT.

There Was Some Hitch and the Vote Wasn't Unanimous By Any Means.

The rules for the government of the police force were adopted at the meeting of council last night, but not without some talk on the matter.

McHenry remarked that there were just as good men in the country under 5 feet 10 inches as there were over that height, and he thought the rules should be made to read 5 feet 6 inches. Marshall wanted to know how the clause about the ages between 21 and 45 got in the rules. Ashbaugh said it was put in after the committee met. Marshall said it wasn't right and he wouldn't vote for it, as some of the sturdiest men in the country were between 45 and 55. The age limit was stricken out, but the height remained the same, everybody but McHenry and Smith voting against the motion. The rules were then adopted, Smith and McHenry voting no.

McHenry remarked that it was the biggest piece of boys' play he ever saw.

Marshall suggested that the clerk change the wording of the rules so that the officers would not be compelled to button their coats to their necks, and the clerk remarked that he had changed it so that it would not be such an acrobatic feat as the committee had first proposed when they wanted the officers to button their coats to their necks within three inches of the knee.

Located south of Bank street extended, east of Bradshaw and north of Huston Addition, is taking with home-seekers. These are the cheapest lots in the city within same distance of the Diamond. They lie well and you can reach them by paved streets. It is wondered why we sell them on the terms. Some get the impression that they are inferior and we want to shove them off. Such is not the case. The lots are slightly sloping, but none to hurt; face to the south, and are really worth more money. We sell them on the terms because we are permanently engaged in the real estate business, and, owning this addition, choose to sell these lots in this way. Anyone can afford to buy one. The terms are

OUR ALPHA ADDITION,

Located south of Bank street extended, east of Bradshaw and north of Huston Addition, is taking with home-seekers. These are the cheapest lots in the city within same distance of the Diamond. They lie well and you can reach them by paved streets. It is wondered why we sell them on the terms. Some get the impression that they are inferior and we want to shove them off. Such is not the case. The lots are slightly sloping, but none to hurt; face to the south, and are really worth more money. We sell them on the terms because we are permanently engaged in the real estate business, and, owning this addition, choose to sell these lots in this way. Anyone can afford to buy one. The terms are

$5 DOWN AND $1 PER WEEK.

REJECTED BY ENGLAND.

Salisbury Declined Offer by Boer Presidents Made Through the United States.

LONDON, March 14.—The United States government, at the request of President Kruger and President Steyn, offered to the British government its services as mediator, with the view of bringing about peace in South Africa.

Lord Salisbury formally but in a kindly manner declined.

The representations made to Great Britain were so put that they assumed nothing of a desire to intervene, but simply transmitted the communications made to United States Consul Adelbert S. Hay, at Pretoria, with the accompanying assurances that anything the state department could do in the interests of peace would be gladly undertaken. The well-known aversion of the British government to any foreign intervention did not appear to have been aroused.

Lord Salisbury made public the fact that he had refused the proposals of peace made by the two presidents to him, England refusing to recognize the independence of the two countries.

TWO FLEETS IN THE ORIENT.

Admiral Kempff Will Cruise Along the Chinese and Japanese Coasts.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Rear Admiral Kempff, commandant at the Mare Island navy yard, telegraphed the navy department his acceptance of the offer of command in command of the Asiatic station.

MORE MONEY FOR GUARD.

Congress Will Probably Increase Militia Appropriation.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Prominent members of the national guard of the several states were before the house committee on militia in advocacy of the increase of the annual appropriation to the militia from $400,000 to $2,000,000.

The merits of the proposition were presented by General George R. Geiger, of the Ohio National Guard. The members expressed their approval.

Captain McCalla Pardoned.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—President McKinley has granted a full pardon to Captain Bowman H. McCalla, of the navy. In 1890 McCalla was convicted by court-martial of several offenses, including the striking of another person in the navy, and was sentenced to be suspended from rank and duty for three years. This will operate to restore him to his old rank and position.

General Kobbe Appointed Governor.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—General Otis has notified the war department that he has appointed Brigadier General William A. Kobbe, U. S. V., military

Relief From Currency Bill Must Come Quickly to Save Money Market From Being Pinched.

NEW YORK, March 14.—There was some pressure against the list at times Tuesday in the stock market, especially Metropolitan, Sugar, People's Gas, Steel Hoop and the New York city stocks generally. Missouri Pacific suffered from disappointment over the showing made in the annual statement and Rubber was raided down an extreme 3½. These and other declines were largely recovered before the close, and in the final transactions a sharp marking up of prices showed that the shorts among the traders were having difficulty in getting back the stock they had sold earlier in the day. Offerings of stocks on all recessions were in fact extremely light, and there were points of strength which acted as sustaining factors for the whole market, notably Third Avenue, the Atchison stocks, New York Central and Norfolk and Western preferred.

It was thus made manifest that while the market waits on developments in the money market for a rise, holders of stocks are not prepared to make concessions to sell. Call money did not command above 6 per cent and fell to 3 per cent, but this was probably due to the cessation of stock market demand as much as any new supply of funds. The losses by the banks to the sub-treasury since last Friday already footed up $3,284,000, which is more than half the remaining surplus over the legal requirement held by the banks. It is evident, therefore, that relief from the operation of the currency law must come quickly if it is to prevent a pinch in the money market. A feeling of assurance was caused by an intimation from Washington that the first payments on account of bond premiums in the refunding operation will be made from the sub-treasuries and not from the government deposits in national banks. The money market is expected to show relief from this source more quickly than from the putting out of new circulation. A striking feature of the day's events was the sharp break in sterling exchange, demand sterling yielding 3½ and cables ½ cent in the pound.

Bonds continued in good demand and prices were firmly held. Total sales, par value, $3,435,000. United States 2's declined ½ and the old 4's ½ in the bid price.

Chicago Grain Market.

CHICAGO, March 14.—May corn declined a shade over a cent early Tuesday on profit takings, but recovered on covering by shorts closing steady, 3½@1½c under Monday. Wheat was heavy, influenced by heavy receipts and a poor speculative demand, May closing 3½@1½c down. Oats closed ½@1½c lower and provisions 2½@10c depressed.

SILVER COINAGE AT 16 TO 1.

Allen and Butler Declare Their Attitude, Owing to Reports to Contrary.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Personal explanations were made in the senate by Mr. Allen (Neb.) and Mr. Butler (N. C.) of their positions on the financial question. Both announced their belief in the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1. The statements were called out by reports to the contrary, which had gained some circulation.

Mr. T. T. (Wash.) began an extended speech on the Porto Rican bill. He maintained that the pending measure clearly was unconstitutional and expressed his belief that it would be so held if it were passed upon by the supreme court.

Missouri Pacific suffered from disappointment over the showing made in the annual statement and Rubber was raided down an extreme $3\frac{1}{2}$. These and other declines were largely recovered before the close, and in the final transactions a sharp marking up of prices showed that the shorts among the traders were having difficulty in getting back the stock they had sold earlier in the day. Clearings of stocks on all recessions were in fact extremely light, and there were points of strength which acted as sustaining factors for the whole market, notably Third Avenue, the Atchison stocks, New York Central and Norfolk and Western preferred.

It was thus made manifest that while the market waits on developments in the money market for a rise, holders of stocks are not prepared to make concessions to sell. Call money did not command above 6 per cent and fell to 3 per cent, but this was probably due to the cessation of stock market demand as much as any new supply of funds. The losses by the banks to the sub-treasury since last Friday already footed up \$3,284,000, which is more than half the remaining surplus over the legal requirement held by the banks. It is evident, therefore, that relief from the operation of the currency law must come quickly if it is to prevent a pinch in the money market. A feeling of assurance was caused by an intimation from Washington that the first payments on account of bond premiums in the refunding operation will be made from the sub-treasuries and not from the government deposits in national banks. The money market is expected to show relief from this source more quickly than from the putting out of new circulation. A striking feature of the day's events was the sharp break in sterling exchange, demand sterling yielding $3\frac{1}{2}$ and cables $1\frac{1}{2}$ cent in the pound.

Bonds continued in good demand and prices were firmly held. Total sales, par value, \$3,435,000. United States 2's declined $1\frac{1}{2}$ and the old 4's $1\frac{1}{4}$ in the bid price.

Chicago Grain Market.

CHICAGO, March 14.—May corn declined a shade over a cent early Tuesday on profit takings, but recovered on covering by shorts closing steady, $3\frac{1}{2}$ at $1\frac{1}{2}$ under Monday. Wheat was heavy, influenced by heavy receipts and a poor speculative demand. May closing $3\frac{1}{2}$ down. Oats closed $1\frac{1}{2}$ at $1\frac{1}{4}$ lower and provisions $2\frac{1}{2}$ at 10¢ depressed.

GRIM SABLE ISLAND.

THIS WRECK STREWN SAND BAR IS DOOMED BY THE SEA.

One of the Weird Legends of This Ocean Graveyard—A Woman in White, a Bleeding Forefinger and a Ring Sold in Halifax.

"Sable Island belongs to Nova Scotia, is 145 miles from Halifax and 85 miles east of Cape Canso," writes Gustav Kobbe in Ainslee's. "It is a treeless, shrubless waste, seamed by wind and wave and of ever changing aspect. A cone shaped hill near the east end, once a mere undulation of sand, is now over 100 feet high and is still growing. Other hillocks are gradually being mowed away by storms. The hillocks are liable to be undermined so swiftly and swept out of existence that they are carefully watched from the various stations on the island there being no certainty how far an inroad of the sea will extend after each successful attack. Even the coarse grass of the island grows in a different manner from that of the mainland. It does not bear seed, but shoots up from roots which run along under the sand. During the winter the sand is blown over the grass and buries it sometimes three or four feet deep, but the hardy blades grow up next season, as if the island sands had protected them from the cold of winter in order to make them all the stronger."

"The island itself is fighting for self-preservation. It seems as if it drew ships into its fatal embrace as rallying points for its loose and shifting sand, thus to protect itself by a bulwark of wrecks against annihilation by the sea. Tradition says that when Sable Island was discovered by Cabot in 1447 it was 80 miles long and 10 miles wide. In 1802, when a rescue station was established there, it was only 40 miles long. Since then it has shrunk to but little more than 20 miles in length, and in width it is only a mile at its widest. Within 28 years the western end lost seven miles. Shoals over which the ocean now surges are pointed out as former sites of lighthouses. One of these was so swiftly undermined by the sea that it had to be abandoned with the greatest precipitation. The spot where once stood the superintendent's house is now under two fathoms of water."

"The island, rapidly diminishing at its western end, is slightly gaining at its eastern. Slowly, like a ship dragging its anchor, it is moving eastward. Will it ever reach the edge of the shoals, stand tottering on the brink of the abyss till it receives its coup de grace and plunge over the submarine bank forever into the depths? Unfortunately its end will probably be less dramatic. There is good ground for believing that this gray sand bar will slowly wear away until it becomes an other submerged shoal added to an already buscade already some 60 miles in length, for a line of breakers extends 16 miles from one end of the island and 28 miles from the other."

"In the space of a single year Sable Island claimed more than 200 lives. In fact, so many wrecks line the shoals of this ocean graveyard that the new pile up on the old, like bodies heaped in one ditch. The Crofton Hall, an iron sailing ship wrecked a few years ago on the northeast bar, broke in two about amidships. The pieces have drifted together again, and the islanders suppose that she struck crosswise upon an old submerged wreck and is settling over it, which accounts for the two parts coming together. Nor is the island satisfied with the awful tribute which it exacts from the living. The same informant who writes me about the Crofton Hall adds that the bark John McLeod, which was wrecked off Devil's Island at the entrance to Halifax harbor, drifted ashore on Sable Island bottom up, a wreck of a wreck!"

was attracted by the piteous whining of his dog, in front of a small, open shelter known to have existed at that time, but long since toppled to pieces. Approaching the shelter, he was startled to see the figure of a woman all in white and holding toward him the bleeding stump of a forefinger. While he was gazing at the apparition it rose silently glided past him and dived into the sea. But time and again thereafter the white woman with bleeding forefinger was seen wandering over the sand hills.

"It is probably only part of the weird legend that Captain Torrens, feeling sure that a shocking crime had been committed, tracked the guilty pirate until he discovered his family on the coast of Labrador and learned that the ring had been sold in Halifax. It is a fact, however, that many years after the disaster Lady Copeland's ring was discovered in a jewelry store in Halifax and was returned to her family. From that hour her ghost has ceased to haunt the island."

How Kaffirs Bank Their Money.
The natives of that part of South Africa which to a great extent is inhabited by bushmen and Hottentots have a peculiar system of banks and banking.

These Kaffirs among whom this curious system of banking obtains live near Kaffraria, in the south of the Colony country. The natives come down south from their country to trade in the several villages and towns in large numbers and then return to Kaffraria.

From those who trade of their own number they select one who for the occasion is to be their banker. He is converted into a bank of deposit by putting all the money of those whose banker he is into a bag, and then they sally forth to the stores to buy whatever they want.

When an article is purchased by any of those who are in this banking arrangement, the price of the article is taken by the banker from this deposit money bag, counted several times and then paid to the seller of the article, after which all the bank depositors cry out to the banker in the presence of the two witnesses selected:

"You owe me so much!" This is then repeated by the witnesses. The general accounting comes between the banker and his several depositors when all desired purchases have been made, after which all the natives depart for their northern wilds.

"Madam," he began as the door opened, "I am selling a new book on 'Etiquette and Deportment.'

"Take off your hat. Never address a strange lady at her door without removing your hat."

"Yes'm. Now, then, as I was saying"—

"Take your hands out of your pockets. No gentleman ever carries his hands there."

"Yes'm. Now, ma'am, this work on 'Et'!"

"Throw away your pipe. If a gentleman uses tobacco, he is careful not to disgust others by the habit."

"Yes'm. Now, ma'am, in calling your attention to this valuable"—

"Wait. Put that dirty handkerchief out of sight and use less grease on your hair in the future. Now you look a bit decent. You have a book on 'Etiquette and Deportment.' Very well. I don't want it. I am only the servant girl. Go up the steps to the front door and talk with the lady of the house. She called me a downright, outright, no-doubt-about-it idiot this morning, and I think the book you're selling is just what she requires."

Industry and Success.

"There's nothin like farmin on a hillside," said the man with the faded hair during a pause in the conversation, "if you pick out a good location."

"Do you mean to say," they asked him, "that you ever worked on a hillside farm or anywhere else?"

"Who said anything about workin?" he rejoined. "I said hillside farmin was all right if you picked out a good location. I had a location right down below a 40 acre farm where a feller put in one whole summer raisin melons an pumpkins. When they got ripe, they broke off f'm the vine an rolled down on to my land. It was a good deal of bother to gather 'em up, but I done it. Made a pretty good thing out of it too."

"The story has it that Captain Torrens, wandering over the island one night in search of possible survivors,

It was a good deal of bother to gather 'em up, but I done it. Made a pretty good thing out of it too."

UNION LABELS

It should be a deep-rooted principle of all union workmen and union sympathizers and particularly those members of the different organizations of East Liverpool, to buy nothing but Union Label goods, in preference to all others. And why not? If we ask fair wages for our labor, why should we buy goods made at unfair wages by others?

The Union Label in every industry is a guarantee of fair wages, decent working hours and union labor employed.

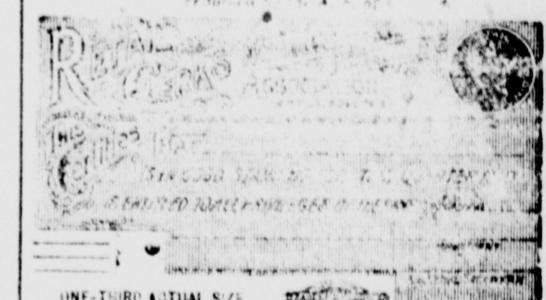

UNION PAPERS.

All Union papers of East Liverpool are now to the various craft and unions of the city by the printing of the above Union Labels at the head of their columns.

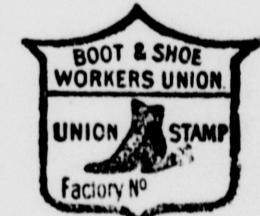

PATRONIZE UNION CLERKS.

All members of the B. C. N. S. A. can show this card Ask for it when making your purchases.

UNION MADE BOOTS AND SHOES.

The Boot and Shoe Workers' union is the national head of the trade, and is a new combination of all the branches of boot and shoe workers. The above trade-mark when found on the sole or lining of a boot or shoe, is a guarantee that the same is made by union labor. Look for the above design stamped on the sole of every pair of boots or shoes you buy.

The Journeymen Tailor's Label is to be found in the inside breast pocket of the coat, on the under side of the buckle strap of the vest, and on the waistband lining of the pants. It is printed in black ink on white linen.

UNION MADE CLOTHES.

You will find the linen label attached by machine stitching to the inside breast pocket of the coat, on the inside of the buckle strap of the vest, and on the waistband lining of the pants.

BICYCLE LABEL.

"Do unto others as ye would that others should do unto you." You will endorse the "Golden Rule" by buying and riding bicycles bearing this Label. The colors are as follows: The Union shield is in red, white and blue, on a background of pea green, bordered by gold. The label will be placed on the upper front side of the tube that receives the seat post.

UNION BREAD AND CRACKERS.

This is a full size facsimile of the label of the Bakers' and Confectioners' union. It is printed on fine white paper and is pasted on each loaf of union-made bread. It is an evidence that the bread is made under fair and wholesome conditions, and in clean and healthy bakeries. Following is the confectioners' and cracker label:

THE SOLDIER VOTE.

Lisbon Veteran Writes of Pensions and the Work of Congressmen.

[From the Lisbon Patriot.]

Editor Daily Patriot:

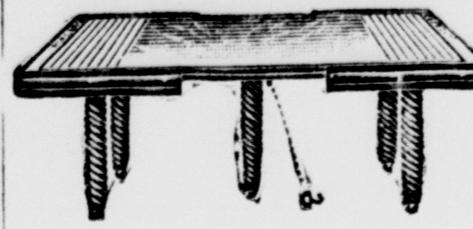

Dear Sir:—I overheard a conversation yesterday between two of Mr. R. W. Tayler's supporters that set my teeth on edge and caused me to do some thinking. The expression I object to was this: "Tayler will get the old soldier vote; they think he gives them their pensions." This was followed by a sarcastic laugh, which indicated the speaker's opinion of the old soldiers. Is it possible, I asked myself, that these politicians think that the old soldier is so ignorant and easy? I want to say to all people of this class that the old soldier is one of the most intelligent voters that goes to the polls, and understands what and who he is voting for, as well as anyone. He knows why he gets a pension. He knows that his case before the pension department depends on the report of the board of examiners and the evidence in the case. He knows it is one of the duties of a congressman to look after the interests of his constituents in such cases. He knows that the government, (not the congressman) employs and pays a clerk for each member of congress to attend to these duties. He knows that Ed. A. King, who is Mr. Tayler's clerk, at present receives the nice little salary of $2,000 per annum for attending to these duties.

He also knows that when an old soldier is a candidate for an office that he is qualified to fill, the old soldier will vote for the comrade rather than for the man who has never smelled powder and never will.

Yours Truly,
INDIGNANT OLD SOLDIER.

INFORMAL MUSICALE.

A Delightful Evening of Music at the Home of Col. John N. Taylor.

An informal musicalale in honor of Miss Jessie M. Martin, of Baltimore, was given at the residence of Colonel John N. Taylor, Sixth street, last evening. Mr. W. C. Weeden, of New York, was also a guest, and was the principal contributor to the program of the occasion. He sang several pleasing numbers, and, by request, "The Holy City." He was ably assisted by Miss Pearl Sebring, soprano, Mr. Ed. MacKintosh, baritone, Miss Carrie Kountz, pianist, and Mr. C. M. Couch, of Pittsburg, accompanist.

Mr. Weeden has been here a great many times, but never has appeared in music of so pretentious a character. His beautiful voice was shown to its fullest and best advantage. Miss Sebring has a voice of lovely quality. Mr. MacKintosh sang two songs in his usual good form. Miss Kountz was enthusiastically received. She will no doubt occupy a prominent place among pianists in the near future. Mr. Couch won his way into the hearts of those present by his finished interpretation of the accompaniments, and also by his piano solo. Ethelbert Nevin's "Good Night," from "A Day in Venice," and, as an encore, a nocturne of his own, "Sweet Remembrance." Mr. Couch mentioned last night his intention of probably coming here in the near future to give the cantata "Queen Esther," if his engagements will permit.

Much has been said of the artists, but no number was more pleasing than the exquisite recital by little Miss Pauline Taylor of Whitcomb Riley's "Little Orphan Annie."

Mr. Weeden leaves for New York tomorrow. During the month of April he makes an extended concert tour with the Boston festival orchestra under the direction of Emil Mollenhaur. On Easter Sunday Mr. Weeden will sing the oratorio "Elijah" with the Handel and Haydn society of Boston, Mass.
